THE FORTIFICATIONS AT MURFREESBORO.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Murfreesboro, Tenn., Sunday, April 12, 1863.

It is impossible to predict, with any degree of certainty, what movements and orders in the Army of the Cumberland portend. There was a time when expeditions of formidable forces in every direction meant something; now they generally seem to mean nothing more than a pleasant healthy promenade à la militaire, down some pleasant pike early in the morning, and back again in the evening, or a leisurely detour through the country, two or three bivouacs in the woods, the capture of a few rambling rebels, debilitated negroes or a little forage, and an undisturbed return.

Lately, however, there has been a little more energy and enterprise infused into these before objectless marches, and in the past few days something worthy the jaunt has been accomplished. Gen. Stanley seems to deserve the credit of breaking the spell of inactivity, though failing to accomplish all that was expected of him.

In command of a brigade of mounted infantry, a large force of cavalry, and a superb battery, Gen. Stanley started, a few mornings ago, on the Liberty pike, for Snow Hill, having been advised of the presence at that place of 2,500 cavalry detached from the command of John Morgan. On his arrival he found the enemy occupying an eminence, naturally of a formidable character, and strengthened by intrenchments that engirdled the hill. Our artillery, though planted in the most eligible position, could not, from the attitude of the enemy, inflict much injury. But the earnest and lively manner in which the guns were worked, and the fear of being surrounded, produced an uneasiness in the rebel intrenchment which very soon developed into a hasty and disorderly retreat. I learn that a portion of our cavalry, to whom was intrusted the work of opposing an attempted retreat of the enemy in that direction, did not stand firm before the outpouring rebel forces, driven back and hard pressed by the other portions of our forces thrown around the hill, thus preventing the capture of the entire force, mounted on splendid horses—the fruits of the late raid into Kentucky—with their arms and equipments. The game having escaped, Gen. Stanley hurriedly destroyed some of the stores, picked up about thirty prisoners and about sixty splendid horses, and started in pursuit, continuing his course toward Lebanon. Quite a number of prowling Butternuts were found in the woods, with rifles in their hands, and returned by the Lebanon pike to Murfreesboro.

The same day on which Gen. Stanley went out on the Liberty pike, Col. Wilder started toward Lebonon with a brigade of mounted infantry, aiming to coöperate with the expedition under Gen. Stanley. The course of Col. Wilder was through the country and woods, adjacent to the main road, and scouring the whole region through which he passed, capturing horses and prisoners, drew up at Snow Hill, lately captured and hastily evacuated by Gen. Stanley. The rebels, thinking that they would not again suffer molestation, by a circuitous detour returned to the hill, and were found by Col. Wilder in considerable force holding the works. A brief engagement sufficed to compel a precipitate retreat of the chivalry—not, however, without the capture by our forces of eighty prisoners, and four hundred superb animals, which the enemy, in their haste to decamp, had failed to secure. Gen. Stanley, in his zeal to pursue on foot the enemy, splendidly mounted, had left unmolested about 5,000 bushels of wheat, which Col. Wilder destroyed. He also brought away one hundred and sixty negroes, who are now working on the fortifications, and two wagon loads of tobacco.

Among the prisoners captured at and near Snow Hill, were two men who wore the National uniform, and who, according to the orders of the War Department, were subject to the penalty of death by shooting. In accordance with the authority vested in him, the Colonel had the two executed. At the same time, he had suspended to the nearest limb, until dead, a prisoner who was represented as having once, as captain of a guerrilla band, ordered the execution of an old man whose two sons are in Stokes' Federal cavalry. The effect of the act was demonstrated a few hours afterward. Col. Wilder had detailed a small party at Reynoldsville, to act as rearguard. The enemy pounced upon the little company, and succeeded in capturing two soldiers, named Vance and Montgomery, belonging to the Seventy-eighth Pennsylvania. They carried the prisoners with them, and following Col. Wilder, came up to the place where the three had been executed. Up to this time, no indignity had been offered our men. The particulars of the execution, however, having been elicited from the citizens in the vicinity, the rebels immediately shot their prisoners, killing Vance instantly, and shooting Montgomery through the neck, destroying the power of speech, and through the jaw, destroying the use of an eye. Montgomery, left for dead, lay all night in the woods, unconscious. Reviving, as morning dawned, and following the directions of a negro, he made his way to the main road and was picked up by a detachment of our cavalry, and brought to Murfreesboro. He is yet alive, and strong hopes are entertained of his ultimate recovery.

A dipatch being received from Gen. Granger, in command at Franklin, representing that Van Dorn was evidently contemplating an early attack on the post, Gen. Stanley, in command of a large force of mounted infantry and cavalry, started on the 9th to reinforce Granger. Van Dorn, as was anticipated, began the attack on Friday, the 10th. The Fortieth Ohio, occupying the advance, gallantly opposed and held the enemy in check until their ammunition was totally exhausted, and they were forced to give way. The enemy, flushed with this apparent success, eagerly pushed forward, and were met by the Fourth Regular cavalry, who, overpowered, fell back foot by foot before the foe. The rebels, under cover of the dense smoke from the batteries, which hugged the earth and hung like a veil before the works, advanced almost to the mouths of the guns before being perceived. Once discovered, a murderous storm of missiles crashed through their ranks and compelled them to withdraw. The force repulsed joined the ranks of a more successful storming party, which was steadily gaining ground, when Gen. Stanley fortunately threw into the scale the veteran force under his command, which had just arrived, and, though wearied with the march, eagerly and promptly entered the fight. The enemy retiring from before the town a short distance, were followed and furiously attacked by the cavalry of Gen. Stanley, who, advancing in the face of a galling fire from the rebel batteries, captured a number of prisoners and guns. Decisive victory seemed hovering over our flag, and the capture of the entire army under Van Dorn, numbering about 15,000 men, appeared certain, when the cavalry of Forrest closed around our pursuing forces and almost completely surrounded them. The prisoners and guns just taken were relinquished, and, after a fierce and bloody struggle, our forces succeeded in extricating themselves, and returned to the main body. The rebels, unwilling to renew the fight, and fearing an attack from us, withdrew toward Spring Hill, their camp of rendezvous.

Gen. Stanley, with a well-selected and strong force of cavalry, mounted infantry and artillery, started in pursuit. The rebel forces were found at Spring Hill on Saturday morning, drawn up in line of battle, awaiting the expected attack. Nothing further has been heard; but I think it improbable, from the advantageous position of the enemy, that any attack will be made at present.

Gen. Stanley, for the celerity with which he crossed a broken country, and the energy and intrepidity he displayed in engaging and following the defeated enemy, has received the most commendatory acknowledgments from the General commanding the Department.

A formidable rebel force is reported to-day at Lebanon, and another large one assembling under Pegram at Sparta, with the evident object of disturbing our communication with Louisville. Col. Wilder has again started out, and another expedition starts to-morrow.

The work on the fortifications is being hurried forward and they will doubtless, under the superintendence of the engineer, Col. Morton, be completed at an early day. When the formidable siege guns are mounted which are now lying within the works, Murfreesboro' will, without doubt, rank among the most formidable of our inland military posts.

The passenger train from Murfreesboro' to Nashville was captured day before yesterday and totally destroyed. The force attacking numbered about 100 well mounted and well armed horsemen who took the passengers prisoners, burnt the mail, and forcing open the safe of Adams Express Company, abstracted about one hundred thousand dollars in transit from the soldiers who are now being paid off, to their families. A large number of sick and convalescent rebel soldiers were on the train going to the Nashville Hospital. The balls of the enemy killed two of them instantly, and wounded several of our own citizens and soldiers aboard. I saw at the express office, an hour before the train started, hundreds of soldiers eagerly pressing toward the door with their packages of money anxious to have it hurried forward to the loved ones at home. When I left, the safe was full, and the agent refused to receive any more money. It seems a pity that a short stretch of road but 30 miles in length, which could be rendered perfectly secure by the employment of only a moderately large force of infantry and cavalry, should be left so open and unprotected. These raids are becoming entirely too numerous. In this case, the neglect of the authorities has occasioned the loss to private soldiers whose families are actually in need of money, of all their earnings for months past.

I feel confident that no movement of this army will take place immediately, unless the forces under Bragg offer battle by advancing on Murfreesboro. If any battle occurs, you may rest assured, that it will be at a distance not greater than ten miles from the fortifications. QUILL.

NEWS FROM HAVANA.

Interesting from Mexico—The North Star at Havana—The Marion Wrecked in Double-headed Shot Keys—The English Schooner Agnes Takes a Prize to Key West, &c.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Havana, Saturday, April 11, 1863.

The following additional particulars of affairs in Mexico are translated from the Diario de la Marina of this city:

"According to a letter received in Vera Cruz, Gen. Comonfort had received orders from Juarez's Government to take the command of the forces of Puebla, but Ortega refused to give it up, from having received secret dispatches in which he was informed that this would be done. It adds that 'Comonfort then withdrew to San Martin with his 3,000 men, and that Carvajal followed him with 2,000, both saying that they would not obey Ortega.'

President Juarez was at Puebla on the 6th ult., and it is said was received very coldly.

The Ferrocarril, of Orizaba, publishes, in its issue of the 1st, the following, with the heading of "A pronunciamiento in Tehuacan."

"It appears that the authorities of that city behaved so badly, annoyed the people so much, and wasted in such a manner the public money, that they exhausted the patience of their subjects. Señors Rangel and Contolain put themselves at the head of the disaffected, and drove out those who had rendered themselves unworthy of the public confidence, the military Commanders who had protected them fleeing also with them. Señor Figueroa has been named Governor in place of the one deprived of his office by the popular movement, and the inhabitants are said to be satisfied, because Figueroa has already before honorably filled the same office, and they no longer look to political opinions, but to pledges."

The Eco del Comercio, in its issue of the 26th, says that President Juarez had made a decree, in virtue of which one per cent. is required on the value of all public or private writings not hypothecated, and upon the value of drafts, checks, promissory notes, and in general upon every promise to pay, including documents received from abroad and those that are received through the law.

Referring to a letter from Jalapa of the 23d, the Eco del Comercio of the 30th, says:

"There was a want of flour in the town, and bread was made of Indian meal. Meat was scarce, and very few vegetables were brought in, for the inhabitants of the neighborhood were afraid of being drafted."

The same paper continues:

"The Congress has again met, and is fighting with Juarez and his Ministry, which they are trying to change for another ultra red, with D. Ignacio Ramios as its head."

The above news being published in Vera Cruz, which is entirely under French rule, cannot be trusted. There was published in the same city a report, which appeared in some of the papers there, and was copied here in the Prensa, that Puebla had been taken by Forey; but nothing has appeared to warrant such a report. At the utmost, Forey may have established his headquarters in the suburbs, outside the walls; but this is not taking Puebla.

The North Star put in here two days ago, from New-York, in a damaged condition, but continued her voyage to Aspinwall yesterday, after taking in a supply of water. She was nearly lost on the Bahama Banks. It appears that there came on a very heavy gale, and had it lasted two or three hours longer, the ship must have been irretrievably lost. To lighten the ship, and give some space for working it, the Captain was compelled to throw overboard a part of the cargo.

The Marion steamer has likewise met with a disaster. She ran aground on her voyage from New-York to New-Orleans, on the morning of the 2d, on the Double-Headed Shot Keys, a well-known reef in the Bahama channel on the route between the above-named ports. Fortunately, all the passengers were saved. The greater part of them were brought on to Cardenas in a brig, and the remainder went to Nassau with the Captain. Those who are here will be taken to New-Orleans on board of the Creole, which is due to-day from your port, at the expense of the owners of the Marion.

The English schooner Agnes, from Matamoras, and bound to this port with a cargo of cotton, was seized and taken to Key West by one of the United States cruisers.

Two French men-of-war screw-steamers arrived yesterday from Vera Cruz—the St. Louis, Commander M. Duroche, and the Wagram, Commander M. Majaureau; the former having 108 soldiers on board, and the latter 111. Although it is only six days since they left Vera Cruz, they report nothing new, which is strange considering that they have left since the English mail steamer. It augurs badly for Forey. If he was successful, there would not be this strange silence. I noticed on their entrance that one of them, in addition to their national flag, showed a yellow flag, from which I conclude that there was some epidemic on board. Havana is made their hospital and I understand that a French doctor here has a contract with his Government for taking care of all the sick soldiers that may be sent from Vera Cruz. LARA.

FROM THE BRITISH WEST INDIES.

Movements of Our War Steamers--The Blockade Runners, &c.

The British steamship Plantaganet, Capt. Bennett arrived here yesterday from Port-au-Prince on the 8th inst. She connected with the British steamship Talisman, Capt. Russell, which left Kingston on the 8th inst., and took from her the cargo, mails and passengers.

The Plantaganet was up off Sandy Hook at 10 A. M. on the 16th in a dense fog, which continued until yesterday morning. Her advices from Jamaica are to the 5th inst., and from Port-au-Prince to the 8th.

At Jamaica there had been considerable excitement consequent on a change of Ministry. The new Executive consists of Messrs. Jordan, Phillips and Westmoreland.

The additional duty act expired on the 2d inst. and had not yet been reënacted.

Coffee at Kingston was selling at 54s. for ordinary, and at Port-au-Prince at 58s., on board.

We have our files of Jamaica papers to April 4, but they contain very little news. Under the caption "The cost of neutrality," the Kingston Tribune, of April 4, says:

"The United States war steamers St. Jago de Cuba and Rhode Island visited Port Royal on Wednesday, at noon. Immediately on their anchoring, salutes were exchanged between them and H. M. S. Aboukir. These United States steamers were from St. Jago de Cuba, where they obtained full supplies. Their commanders were very desirous to call at Kingston for that purpose, but were deterred by the terms of her Majesty's Proclamation, which they had been enjoined by the United States Government strictly to observe. They, therefore, took at St. Jago de Cuba 660 tons of coal, inferior to that obtainable here, and disbursed at that port $24,000. The ships left on Thursday morning, at 9 o'clock."

The same paper of March 14 says:

"A large ship-of-war supposed to be a Federal war vessel, in search of the Confederate steamer Alabama, laid off Port Morant for two days (7th and 8th inst.,) and a large paddle-wheel steamer, with her machinery on deck steering east, also passed the above port on the 10th inst."

The Standard of March 16 says:

"A large steamer passed the port of Montego Bay on Tuesday morning last. Some folks there are of opinion that it was the Alabama. It might have been one of the two steamers said to have been at St. Thomas."

From Bermuda.

The Bermuda Royal Gazette of March 31 has been received. It acknowledges the reception of Charleston papers of March 19, brought by the blockade runner Gen. Beauregard, from Savannah.

Capt. Warn, of the British schooner Laura Ann, which arrived at Bermuda on the 28th, last from London, furnishes the Gazette with a full account of the capture of the bark Star of Peace and schooner Aldabaran, by the Florida. The facts have already been published.

The rebel steamer Cornubia arrived at St. George's, March 22, from Wilmington, N. C., with 314 bales of cotton, 29 cases of tobacco and two casks of turpentine. The day following the rebel schooner St. George arrived from the same place with 145 bales of cotton, 160 barrels of resin and 65 boxes of tobacco. Both cargoes were consigned on account of the rebel Government. The steamer Gen. Beauregard had on board 1,020 bales of cotton. The rebels have an agent at St. George's who styles himself "Major Walker, U. S. A." The Gen. Beauregard was to sail again on the 8th inst. She had been receiving the Merrimac's cargo.

The Gazette had received later advices from Turk's Island, per schooner Lees, from Grand Cay. The American brig Josephus and the American schooner Harriet, both from Baltimore, bound to Jamaica, were wrecked on the Caicos Reefs.

The merchants and inhabitants generally of the Turks and Caicos Islands have petitioned the Imperial Government, that the steam vessels of the proposed new line of communication between New-York and Colon and back, calling, both going and returning, at Kingston, Jam., should make Grand Cay a place of call both on the outward and homeward passage. This line is to commence operations on the 1st January, 1864.

From Nassau, N. P.

By the British Queen, which touched at Nassau, on her way from Havana, we receive files of the Nassau Guardian to the 11th inst.

The steamer Margaret and Jessie, Capt. Wilson arrived from Charleston on the evening of the 10th, with dates to the 8th inst., the day after the bombardment of Sumter.

A schooner arrived from Abaco on the morning of the 1st, with the mails brought from Charleston by the steamer Eagle, which was obliged to put into Green Turtle Cay for want of fuel.

From the Guardian, March 25.

There have been two arrivals from Charleston since our last, the steamer Ruby, Capt. Carlin, having come in on Monday, and the steamer Flora, Capt. Pickernell, yesterday. Both brought dates to the 20th inst.

The Flora, on leaving this port last trip, passed, on the 14th inst., near the western edge of the Gulf Stream, several casks, a panel door, and two clinker-built boats. The last-named were bottom upward, and painted green, with a narrow yellow stripe. The steamer was stopped, and a boat lowered for the purpose of ascertaining the name on the boats, if possible, but nothing was discernible on them or the other articles which could lead to their identification.

On nearing the blockading squadron, the Flora was chased close to Fort Moultrie, having about 30 shot and shell discharged at her without effect. One shot passed near enough to an officer on deck, however, to cause him to feel sensibly the agitation of the atmosphere around. The success of eluding the vigilance of the blockaders may be undoubtedly attributed to the skill and perseverance of Capt. Pickernell and his officers, combined with the fleetness of the steamer.

The Flora is the vessel furnished with a double screw, of which we published a description a short time since.

THE LOSS OF THE MARION.

From the Guardian, April 11.

By one of the passengers in the yacht Julia, which arrived from Havana on Thursday night, we learn that the steamer Marion, Johnston, Master, belonging to Spofford & Tileston's New-York and New-Orleans line, struck on a sunken rock, (not put down in the chart,) about nine miles north of Double-headed-shot Cay Lighthouse, at 5 P. M. on Thursday, the 2d instant. She was bound from New-York to New-Orleans with a valuable assorted cargo. She passed over the rock, but was so much injured that she was with difficulty navigated to the lighthouse, and just on reaching it, she leaked so considerably that the fires in the engine-room were extinguished. In this emergency the captain was compelled to beach her, and she immediately bilged.

Mr. J. B. Squires (of the firm of Squires Brothers, of this City), who is engaged in the erection of a building attached to the lighthouse, with the assistance of his workmen, succeeded in saving a large quantity of the Marion's cargo.

Capt. Johnston hailed a schooner which passed on the day after the disaster, in which he dispatched the purser and several of his crew to Nassau in order to procure a steamer for the purpose of forwarding the passengers to their destination; but all the steamers here being engaged, the schooner Vigilant has been chartered for that purpose. Eleven of the passengers took passage on board a brig bound to Cardenas, but the rest preferred waiting for an arrival from Nassau. They had erected tents for shelter, and, having saved the provisions and stores of the Marion, were enjoying themselves as well as circumstances would allow.

The Canada Outward Bound.

Halifax, Friday, April 17.

The steamship Canada arrived here from Boston, at 4 o'clock this morning, and sailed again at 5 o'clock for Liverpool.

INTERESTING FROM THE SOUTH.

ALL QUIET AT CHARLESTON.

Our Forces Still in Possession of Coles, Kiawah and Seabrook Islands.

Exploits of Wheeler's Rebel Cavalry on the Cumberland River.

Fortress Monroe, Friday, April 17.

Richmond papers of the 16th inst. are received, from which we obtain the following intelligence:

All is quiet at Charleston.

The Federals occupy Coles, Kiawah and Seabrook Islands in considerable force. They are protected by their gunboats.

Two gunboats and three transports have been destroyed on the Cumberland River by Wheeler's rebel cavalry.

[This last item is evidently an exaggerated version of news which we have already received from our own sources of information.—Ed. Times.]

REBEL TELEGRAMS.

Jackson, Miss., Monday, April 6.

Gen. Chalmers, on Friday drove the enemy's pickets within five miles of Memphis, killing two and capturing one.

We have intelligence from Fort Pemberton to the 5th, to the following effect: The enemy began to embark last night, and this morning he is in rapid retreat. We shelled their camps and transports, and succeeded in disabling a boat laden with troops. We also made a reconoissance in force from our left flank, creating great alarm among the Yankees.

We have reports from New-Orleans that Banks, with 10,000 men, had crossed to Donaldsonville, and had gone thence down the Bayou Plaquemine, with a view to reinforce Weitzel, and enable him to attack the Teche country.

Columbia, Tenn., April 6, 1863.

To Gen. Bragg:

A report received from Col. Woodward says: "With a section of King's Missouri battery we sunk one gunboat and one transport, and disabled others, on the night of the 2d inst., near Palmyra, on the Cumberland River."

(Signed) EARL VAN DORN, Major-Gen.

On the 4th, in a skirmish near Franklin, we captured seven Yankees.

Lynchburgh, Monday, April 13.

A special to the Republican, dated Salom, 13th, says:

Gen. Jenkins's expedition, with a small portion of his command, in Western Virginia, has been completely successful. The elections and Spring Courts of the bogus Government in all the counties West of the Kanawha river, were broken up, and the enemy driven, with loss, into the fortifications at Hurricane Bridge. He proceeded thence to the Kanawha river, and, four miles below Winfield, riddled two Government steamboats which were passing. He embarked at night in flatboats, and floated down the Kanawha, attacking and capturing Point Pleasant the next morning. He killed and captured a number of the enemy, took 150 horses and destroyed a large amount of stores. The enemy made most desperate efforts to cut off his retreat from the Ohio River, but they were eluded and the command was extricated in safety.

GOSSIP FROM RICHMOND.

Correspondence of the Charleston Mercury.

Richmond, Saturday, April 4.

The cold March wind blowing this morning is fast drying the roads and paving the way to army operations, which the light April showers will hardly put a stop to. Hooker's army must be demoralized, if the half we hear from private sources be true. An attack on his part is not expected. Some sentences in a late order of Gen. Lee have been construed to mean offensive intentions on our side, but that cautious General will see to it that neither Yankees or Confederates get any clue to his design.

It is stated here that Gen. G. W. Smith has received the appointment of State Geologist in Georgia. Another report is that he will take charge of important iron works.

Opinions differ as to the chances of the various candidates for Governor of this State. Some of the old Whigs think Flournoy will be elected, but the general conviction is in favor of Ex-Gov. Smith.

REBEL LOSSES AT THE BATTLE OF FREDERICKSBURGH.

Army stories have been coming to me slowly of late. Here is the last. After the battle of Fredericksburgh a little Yankee officer was talking with one of our Alabama Majors, who stood in that part of the field where we suffered most severely—dead men and horses, broken cannon and blown up caissons, being all around him. "You hurt us powerful bad yesterday," said the Yankee. "Yes," replied the Major, drily. "Guess we hurt you some too," rejoined the Yankee, looking at the wrecks of humanity strewn about. "Didn't kill a man or a horse," said the Major. The little Yankee looked up at the tall Confederate for a moment, then at the dead men and horses on every side, and then wheeled suddenly around and walked rapidly away, utterly astounded at the cool manner in which the Alabamian had out-Yankeed the Yankees in deliberate lying.

AFFAIRS ON THE YORK RIVER.

AT GLOUCESTER.

From the Richmond Dispatch, 14th.

A gentleman from Gloucester County furnishes us with some particulars of the wild career the Yankees are leading there. Col. Grenshaw is in command of the forces at Gloucester Point, and in consequence of several dashes made on his pickets, has threatened, on their repetition, to burn every house in the neighborhood. A cavalry command called the "Califo nia Hundreds," composed of the scum of the lowest classes in the cities of the United States, has been making raids in this county, stealing and destroying as they go. The barn of Dr. Bird, with 700 barrels of corn, and that of Mr. Patterson Smith, with 500 barrels, were burnt by them. In both cases the carriages of the owners, with farming utensils, &c., were thrown into the flames. Dr. Tabb's barn was also burnt. Among the robberies worthy of the Yankees was that recently committed at the house of Mr. John Taliaferro. A gunboat came up and landed a party, who proceeded to the house, and, after stealing what they wanted, ripped up a Brussels carpet from the floor, took it aboard the ship, and steamed off.

The Yankees are clearing out the North River oysters. There are about thirty New-Haven vessels lying in the river, taking cargoes for the North.

AT WILLIAMSBURGH.

In his attack on the enemy at Williamsburgh, on Saturday last, Gen. Wise succeeded in driving him to Fort Magruder, from which, as was stated yesterday, fire was opened upon the town. No material damage was done, however, either to life or property. Whilst Gen. Wise was engaging the enemy in front, Col. Tabb, at the head of a regiment of cavalry, succeeded in gaining his rear, and, report says, destroyed about $100,000 worth of stores. Our loss in the affair very slight.

FIGHTING AMONG THEMSELVES.

A letter in the Mobile Advertiser, from Shelbyville, Tenn., dated the 1st inst., makes the following statement:

"You will be concerned to hear of an affair that transpired yesterday morning at Tullahoma, between Slocomb's Washington artillery and Austin's battalion of Sharpshooters—all Louisianians. It began among a few of the men, but, like most disturbances in camp, grew in dimensions until the entire force on both sides became engaged. It was a regular pitched battle at last, in which the commanding officers joined and fought with desperation. The artillerists were first driven back; the Sharpshooters peppered them in gallant style, but in their turn had to fall back before the heavy shot of the artillerists; and so, across the road which separated the camps, the battle raged furiously for a full hour—victory at last perching on the banner of the artillerists. The commanding officers, Austin and Slocomb, received several severe wounds, I learn; but were, at last accounts, getting no better fast, the surgeons having failed to provide sufficient quantities of the proper medicine.

ARRIVAL OF CAPTURED YANKEES.

From the Charleston Mercury, 8th.

About two weeks since, a force of about 400 men of the Seventh New-Hampshire Volunteers, stationed at St. Augustine, Fla., were out in the woods near that place, either on a foraging expedition or making an attempt to capture the company of Capt. Dickerson, of the Second Florida cavalro. Upon their return into St. Augustine, Capt. Dickerson cut off from the main body of the Yankees a Sergeant and four men. They were sent to Lake City, the headquarters of Gen. Finegan. Last evening a guard brought to this city the Sergeant and his comrades, and a deserter from the Sixth Connecticut Volunteers, recently stationed at Jacksonville.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Extra Session of the Legislature—Gov. Bonham's Message.

From the Charleston Mercury of April 6.

The called session of the General Assembly of this State was opened in Columbia last Friday night. A quorum was present in both Houses, and the following Message from Gov. Bonham was received, read, and appropriately referred:

Executive Department, Columbia, April 3, 1863.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Since your last adjournment, a mighty stride toward despotism has been made by the Government of the North, indicative of a fixed purpose on the part of the dominant party, if possible, to conquer and destroy the South.

The sword and purse have been placed almost absolutely at the disposal of their President, in utter disregard of the Federal Constitution, making him virtually a despot. So far from this exciting a spirit of resistance, as many have vainly expected, from every portion of the North, there comes nothing now but the vote of preparation for the vigorous prosecution of this unholy war. The most sanguine must have abandoned all hopes of peace from foreign interventions or negotiations, from exhaustion of the enemy's men and means, or from such resistance on the part of his subjects to Lincoln's tyrannical rule. With his control of the purse and power of draft, there will be no lack of men for his armies.

It does not become us then to shut our eyes to the fact that there can not be any reasonable hope of peace with his consent during his term of office. It only remains for the people of this Confederacy, through themselves and their constituents, State and Confederate authorities, to make adequate preparation to repel successfully the vandal attack. In their hands are their own destinies. With a country rich in all the resources which constitute the wealth of a nation; the finest type of Government that the world ever beheld; a refined, cultivated and enlightened people; an army perhaps not surpassed at at any period of time, in all the qualities which makes troops invincible; contending for all that man in every age has held dear, it is their mission to go on making every preparation, submitting cheerfully to every sacrifice, and putting forth vigorously every effort necessary to secure the great boon which their fathers bequeathed them—Independence. This state of our foreign relations, and important developments in our own internal policy, which I shall proceed to indicate, have induced me to convene your bodies.

Such measures as you in your wisdom may devise to meet the emergency I shall heartily endeavor to carry into effect. It is much to be feared that, while your act to limit the production of cotton to three (3) acres to a full hand, will restrain such as, having overflowing granaries, contemplate withholding their grain from market, and planting cotton almost exclusively, it has yet induced many, as I am informed, who propose planting little if any cotton, to plant the full number of acres allowed by law. And this is justified upon the ground that your statute is equivalent to an announcement by the chosen representatives of the people that such a course is not unpatriotic.

If this feeling prevails extensively, it will be readily perceived what must be the result. All fertilizers will be put on the cotton lands to stimulate them to the highest production, while the corn lands will be thus proportionately impoverished.

In my first Message, in January last, commending to your favorable consideration the Georgian law, I recommended a reduction of the number of acres below three. With the lights now before us, I recommend an amendment of your act so as to prohibit the planting over a half, or at most one acre to the full hand, and that the hands to be enumerated shall only be such as work in the crop.

I invite your first attention to the subject, and recommend, in the event a further restriction is imposed that the two Houses ratify the act immediately after its passage.

The spirit of speculation has recently made such alarming strides in this State, as to render your interposition necessary to arrest this evil. Large sums are invested in flour, corn, bacon, and other articles of prime necessity, to the monopoly almost of such articles in certain sections of the country, and they are withheld from market, or are being exported beyond the limits of the State, to the great enhancement of prices and the manifest injury of the consumer, especially the families of those whose producing force is in the army.

Under these circumstances I have called into exercise the power conferred upon me by the Constitution to prohibit, for thirty days, the exportation of provisions from this State, but with some modifications, which I felt were due to our sister States and the Confederate Government. I have not gone, so far, beyond the retention of these articles within the limit of the State, and your action is necessary to enable me to carry fully into effect this clause of the Constitution, as also to continue the prohibition without interruption, if you should deem it advisable.

I recommend the passage of an act which will authorize the Governor, through proper agents, to dispose, at their market value, of such articles as have been or may be seized in transitu, and after paying all expenses incurred out of the proceeds, to retain a certain proportion, to be distributed among the Soldiers' Boards of Relief, the remainder to be returned to the owner, or such other appropriate legislation as you may deem better adapted to the case.

I also recommend that you adopt some legislation to arrest the purchase and monopoly of articles of prime necessity, even when it is not intended to export them beyond the limits of the State. The monopoly and withholding from market of supplies is most detrimental to the true interests of the whole country now involved in such a war as has not been seen in modern times. Your act, ratified 18th December last, to suppress the undue distillation of spirits from the cereal grains of the State, though stringent in its penalties, does not accomplish its object.

I am informed of numerous violations of its provisions in various portions of the State, but have not yet heard of the first prosecution. Indeed, I learn from some of the most respectable citizens, that no one seems willing to become an informer. It might be well to give the informer one-half the fine, but I am free to confess that I doubt its success, even then. Some very worthy citizens of the State have urged the Executive to employ agents for the purpose of suppressing unlicensed distillations, which, of course, he has not the power to do. This is a crying evil, and mostly felt in the grain-growing districts, where the distilleries have heretofore been most abundant. The complaints to me from these sections are so numerous, that this subject constitutes one of the principal objects of your convocation.

The permits authorized by me under the proviso in the act to distill a limited quantity for medical purposes only, is as yet probably far short of the medical wants of the whole State.

For many districts there have been and doubtless will be no applications. I regret to say that I hear rumors of underletting and violations of the contract, though not in any tangible form, which early steps will be taken to investigate. The sale under the contracts I have endeavored to guard in every possible way. I am not sure but that all distillation "for medicinal purposes alone" should be limited to a single district, say the central district of the State, under the charge of a competent agent, subject to the control of the Executive. But the trial made of the present system does not enable me to make any definite recommendations on this point.

The entire subject is commended to your earnest consideration, and I trust you will devise some means by which the undue distillation of the cereals (and I would add molasses) may be, for the present, effectually suppressed.

The enormous profits on whisky afford apparently an irresistible inducement to distil grain; and the unwillingness of the citizens and officials to give information and prosecute is such that the consumption of grain by distillation, without any permit, is a great evil. All supplies which the country affords are needed for our armies in the field and our people at home.

There is no limit to the capacity of the Confederate States now to produce everything requisite to carry on the war for an indefinite period. While our soldiers are proving themselves equal to the enemy everywhere, we at home may ruin our cause by an unwise failure to develop our resources and preserve our supplies. The two great questions with us are our finances and our supplies. The Confederate Government is endeavoring to regulate the former; the latter the State Governments and the people themselves must regulate, and upon them rests a heavy responsibility.

The act to supply negro labor for coast defenses, experience has shown, cannot be made effectual for the accomplishment of its objects. I have ascertained from the United States Census of 1850, an abstract of which is herewith transmitted, that each division, as now arranged by the act, contained then at least five times as many road hands as are called for by the Confederate General, and at this juncture, doubtless, contains more. Not over one-half of the road hands of any one division has heretofore been sent to the coast. If therefore, each division would furnish one-half of its force heretofore sent down, that is one-fourth of its whole force, it would afford largely more than the number called for.

But the second division, the only one whose time, so far, has arrived to respond to the call for its half, has furnished less than one-fifth of the number called for by the Confederate General. While a distrust as to the treatment of the negroes, and also as to their prompt return, deters some from sending their portion of the labor, the fine is too light to compel any. If that were adequate, the process of collection is too slow, each fine, by law, having to be sued for in the Court of Common Pleas, after being assessed and imposed by the Commissioners; and when collected, there is still no authority for the Commissioners to pay this sum to the State Agent, who might therewith procure some labor. Some more expeditious mode for procuring the labor and imposing and collecting the fines will have to be adopted to secure the success of the scheme.

Some Commissioners have doubted whether less than a quorum of the Board can fill vacancies. Many Commissioners being in the army, it may be well for the Legislature at its present session, for this particular purpose, to fill the vacancies, and so to amend the act that one or more Commissioners may appoint the number requisite to constitute a quorum, the vacancies to be filled from among such as are exempt from road duty if necessary. I herewith transmit a copy of a recent correspondence with Col. John S. Preston, Commandant of Conscripts for South Carolina, upon a subject which I presume will give rise to no embarrassment.

My action in the premises, as the Executive of the State, has been taken in accordance with the dictates of my best judgment; but as some members of the Legislature entertain views differing somewhat from my own as to the construction to be placed upon your recent act connected with the subject, I have deemed it proper to lay the matter before you for such action as you may consider advisable. Upon your own deliberations and my humble efforts to carry out your decisions, I invoke the blessings of the Almighty. M. L. BONHAM.

THE WAR IN EASTERN VIRGINIA.

A Fight Between Our Gunboats and the Rebels on the Nansemond River.

The Rebels Defeated and Badly Cut Up.

Washington, Friday, April 17.

Lieut.-Commanding Cushing sends to the Navy Department the following dispatch:

United States Steamer Commodore Barney,
Nansemond River, April 14—7½ P. M.

This morning the vessels from above came down—the Mount Washington disabled.

About 11½ A. M. the enemy opened on us with some pieces of artillery, giving us a cross-fire.

At once we got under way, and went into action, silencing the enemy in an hour.

At about 1 P. M. the rebels took up a position within seven hundred yards of the Mount Washington, which was grounded, and opened on us with both artillery and sharpshooters.

I kept close to the disabled Mount Washington, and fought the enemy until high water, when I ordered the Stepping Stones to take the Mount Washington in tow.

This was done under a heavy fire; and at 5 P. M. I had the satisfaction of silencing the enemy's batteries.

My loss foots up three killed and seven wounded.

I do not know as yet what the casualties are in the other vessels.

I have eight raking shots, but fortunately my engine is not disabled.

I can assure you that the Barney and her crew are still in good fighting trim, and we will beat the enemy, or sink at our post.

The most of the wounded and the dead I send down to the Minnesota.

It is only requisite to look at the Mount Washington to see with what daring gallantry Lieut. Lawson fought his vessel.

I am now taking her in tow, and shall anchor for the night where we have fought all day.

Acting Rear-Admiral Lee telegraphs to the Secretary, off from Newport's News, at 6 A. M., April 16, as follows:

Reports from Lieuts. Cushing and Lawson just received. The enemy have not crossed the river, and there is every indication that they are retreating, though they still have some artillery and sharpshooters on the Nansemond.

Our boats shot down a number of their men to-day with canister. We have had three wounded, making in all five killed and eighteen wounded in our little flotilla—to which, from what I can learn, the fight has been pretty much confined.

THE WAR IN ARKANSAS.

The North Side of the Arkansas Clear of Rebels.

St. Louis, Friday, April 17.

A telegram from Col. Phillips, dated Park Hill, Cherokee Nation, April 11, says he has swept the north side of Arkansas River clear of rebels. Part of his command holds Fort Gibson. He has had overtures from Col. Drew, Capt. Vaughn, and the Creek Indians.

The rebels are gathering on the south side of Arkansas River, and hold all the fords, which are now deep.

A Riot at Halifax.

Halifax, N. S., Friday, April 17.

There was quite a serious riot here last evening. About 300 soldiers broke from the barracks, rushed through the streets, assailing citizens, breaking windows and doing all the damage they could.

The fighting soon became indiscriminate between the citizens and soldiers, and several were hurt on both sides.

A detachment of the Royal artillery finally appeared and drove the soldiers back to their barracks.

Indians Routed in Utah.

Salt Lake City, Friday, April 17.

Col. Evans attacked and routed 200 Indians intrenched in a cañon 75 miles south of Daybreak, on the 15th, killed 30, followed them 14 miles and scattered them in every direction. Lieut. Reel was killed and two Sergeants wounded.

Joseph J. Robinson, Valentine Foreman, Committee of Arrangements.

FROM "OLD IRONSIDES."

Bordentown, N. J., April 15, 1863.

Gentlemen: I had the honor to receive yesterday your kind invitation to attend an Anniversary Mass assemblage, at Madison-square, in the City of New-York, on Monday, the 20th inst., in the afternoon.

Subject throughout the past changeable season of the year to painful attacks of neuralgia, I must necessarily avoid all exposure, which might subject me to any increase of its painful attacks; otherwise it would afford me great pleasure to attend the assemblage, and participate in the honorable and patriotic proceedings, so interesting to every friend of the Union. I would gladly unite with every participator in the benefits of the glorious Constitution, devised, established and bequeathed to us, through the patriot efforts and sacrifices of our glorious fathers, that we and our posterity might enjoy forever our own free Government, founded on the basis of the largest liberty possible to be exercised by a virtuous and intelligent people, in pursuit of welfare and happiness.

Accept, gentlemen, my thanks for your kind invitation, as well also as my regrets for inability to attend.

I am your much obliged and very respectful obedient servant, CHAS. STEWART.

To Hon. Robert H. McCurdy, Chairman Executive Committee; James Wadsworth, Chairman, James T. Brady, Leonard W. Jerome, Nehemiah Knight, Waldo Hutchins, Committee of Arrangements.

LAW REPORTS.

Warranty—A Variety of Opinions Concerning a Horse.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT.

Before Justice Hoyt.

John B. Borst vs. Ezra Gentman.—This action was brought upon a warranty on the sale of a horse, made, as alleged in September, 1858, at Fonda, Montgomery County, in this State.

The complaint alleged that the horse was warranted to be sound and kind, eleven years old, and that a written warranty to that effect was signed by the defendant.

The evidence of the plaintiff showed that the horse was wholly unsound, and that it died some three weeks after the sale; also, that if sound, it would have been worth $200, but, as it was, it was wholly worthless.

The defendant testified that he distinctly told the plaintiff that if he took the horse, he must take it as it was; that he would not warrant it; that the plaintiff requested him to sign an order to get the horse, which proved to be the warranty claimed.

The defendant placed upon the stand a number of witnesses, among whom were the Cashier of the Mohawk Bank and the Sheriff of Montgomery County—all whom testified that, if sound, the horse was not worth over $75, and that if in the condition represented by plaintiff's witnesses, it would have been worth from $25 to $30.

The Court, upon the request of defendant's counsel, charged the jury that if the plaintiff took the horse with a knowledge of its unsoundness, although the defendant not knowing the contrary, represented it sound, the plaintiff could not recover.

The trial resulted in a verdict for the defendant.

Mr. Clute and T. B. Eldridge for plaintiff; Judge Cushing, of Fonda, and Alex. H. Reavy for defendant.

The Corporation and its Streets—Action to Recover for the Death of a Husband.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM.

Before Justice Robertson.

Hoy vs. Adams et al. and The Mayor, &c.—This was an action by the plaintiff as administratrix of the estate of her deceased husband, to recover of the defendants damages for causing his death by alleged negligence in respect to a certain excavation in West-street.

The facts of the case were stated in the TIMES of Thursday last.

Surrogate's Court.

Before Surrogate Tucker.

Charitable Bequests.—The will of Johanna Scanlan, now admitted to probate, leaves $100 to the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum in Prince-street, and the same amount to the Paulist Fathers in Fifty-ninth-street.

Wills Admitted.—The wills of S. H. Richenberger, Richard Wainright, U. S. N.; James Stanburg, Margaret Stewart, Samuel Glover, James Parsley, Henry Chapman Wells, and Henry Von Axte, were now admitted to probate.

United States Circuit Court.

Before Judge Shipman.

Levi J. Mabie et al. vs. Oscar Vredenburg.—This was an action for an alleged infringement of a patent for making shoe-lasts. The defendant called three witnesses, but the plaintiff rested on his patent. The jury, under the charge of the Court, rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1, thus sustaining the patent.

Decisions.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Before Justice Barnard.

In the Matter of the Petition of Macomb, an Infant.—Order granted.

Levy vs. Fisher.—Memoranda for counsel.

Stoker vs. Potter.—Motion granted on payment of $10 costs of motion within five days, and the costs directed by the order of Judge Mason.

The People, &c., ex rel. Cook vs. The Board of Police.—No costs can be allowed except by the Judge who tried the case. Taxation reversed.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Before Justice Moncrief.

Keteltas vs. Young.—Motion to continue injunction granted, and Receiver appointed. Papers in Clerk's office.

Newton et al. vs. Wales et als.—Proposed case and proposed amendments to case settled, and with the minutes of the stenographer left with the Clerk at Special Term.

Panton vs. Zebley.—Allowance granted.

Cutter et als. vs. Reilly et als.—Motion denied, with $7 costs.

Before Justice Moneil.

Hulzapple vs. The Eighth-avenue Railroad Company; Turwillinger vs. Hendrick.—Order granted.

Sinclair, Receiver, &c., vs. Fannin & Fannin.—Ordered that the defendant, James Fannin, is guilty of the contempt alleged, and that a fine of $350 be imposed upon him, and that he do stand committed until such fine is paid. Opinion with Clerk.

The Sheriff's Charges for Auctioneers—A Card from Counsel.

NEW-YORK, Friday, April 17, 1863.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Herts vs. Wood.—In reference to your leader, "A Straw in the Wind," it is proper to state that the business of auctioneering for the Sheriff is of a different character from what you describe it to be. I learn that for many years it has been found to be advantageous to cry the Sheriff's sales by a licensed auctioneer, but he is not employed or allowed to charge, against the objection of any of the parties in interest; and the rate of charges is not higher than the usual charge for the sale of personal property by auctioneers generally. In many instances the charges are probably less.

The points presented by you to the public were urged to the Court by the defendant, but were held not to be sustained by the evidence presented by him. Indeed, the charge made by Mr. Wood's counsel, not against my client, Mr. Herts, but against the Sheriff, who was not a party to the controversy, and had no opportunity to answer, has no foundation in truth.

Pray, therefore, to exonerate the Court, as well as counsel, from the imputations bestowed on them. It is possible that in the course of the litigation, facts disreputable to an honorable M. C. may become public, but they will be found not to bear any relation whatever to the cry of "wolf" now started. On this point, I do not now wish to enter into further explanation.

Yours, &c., PHILIP J. JOACHIMSEN,
No. 302 Broadway.

FRIDAY, April 17—P. M.

There is more tone to the Foreign Exchange market to-day for the mail of Saturday, and a good business has been done on London at 167@168 ⅌ cent. for Bankers', and 165@166 ⅌ cent. for Merchant Bills. Bankers' signatures were taken quite freely, from second hands, at 167 ⅌ cent. These quotations for actual business imparted steadiness to the price of Gold Coin which ruled through the day from 153 to 153⅝ ⅌ cent. At the Afternoon Exchange the sales were at 153½@153⅝ ⅌ cent.

The easy supply of Money at low rates to the Brokers, and the extra large Spring earnings on the Railways seem to have inaugurated an active speculative movement on the Stock Exchange, and the buying to-day was not only animated but more general through the Share list than usual of late. The advance in price is also quite marked and well distributed. A large business was done on Harlem at a rise of 3@4 ⅌ cent., and on both classes of Erie, the Common at 79½, and the Preferred at 98@98½ ⅌ cent. Several of the Western Roads were in request at an advance of ½@1 ⅌ cent. The Hudson shares sold at 107, seller 30 days, and 107@107½ ⅌ cent. cash. The shares of the Pacific Mail were in demand for immediate delivery, and the cash price went up to 188½ ⅌ cent. There was an advance of ½ ⅌ cent. on Missouri 6 ⅌ cents. The Treasury paper was firm at 100⅞ ⅌ cent. for the Certificates paying interest in Gold, and 98⅞ ⅌ cent. for Currency Certificates.

At 4 o'clock the Share Market was active with a further advance on Hudson, Erie Preferred, Fort Wayne and Chicago, Pittsburgh and Michigan Southern. The general market left off firm. The price of Gold yielded at the close to 152⅞@153 ⅌ cent.

There is said to be an eager lobby influence at Albany to defeat the Gold Restraining bill—comprised, of course, of speculators who care very little, if anything, for the credit of the National Currency. It may also embrace a few managers of our Moneyed Corporations, who besiege the Legislature on this subject, not for the gain which they hope to make by merely lending Money on Gold, but by the profit which they promise themselves, individually, by gambling in Gold on borrowed means. Withal this sort of influence, however, the probability is the two Houses will finally agree upon a Restraining bill.

Another steamer cargo of Cotton from Liverpool, 2,920 bales, came in to-day.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 ⅌ cent., clear of State and National tax, payable on and after May 15.

The Bank of North America, of this City, has notified the Secretary of the Treasury of its readiness to deposit $750,000 of Government Stock, under the provisions of Mr. CHASE's Bank act, as soon as the Circulating Notes are prepared.

The breadstuff trade of Milwaukee, week ending April 15, Messrs. GEO. J. JONES & Co., in their last circular, notice thus: "Flour—the demand is very moderate, and transactions are few and unimportant. About 15,000 barrels have been shipped within the week by Lake, and the stock is reduced to about 130,000 bbls. Receipts for week, 4,366 bbls. against 5,086 bbls. the same week last year. Wheat—prices have varied but little during the week. The season of navigation may be considered as having commenced, for although the Straits at Mackinaw are not yet known to be open, the shipments by vessel for the lower lake ports have already reached 300,000 bushels. The weather has been favorable for sowing, and it is thought a greater breadth of land will be sown this year than last. Receipts for week have averaged 17,000 bushels per day against an average of 9,000 bushels for corresponding days last year. Stock in store about 2,650,000 bushels. Contracts for freight to New-York, vessels to leave about 5th May, can be had at 25 cents per bushel. We quote No. 1 Spring on board, at $1 21; No. 2 at $1 11; Rejected 97c.@$1. Receipts for week 160,962 bushels against 52,208 bushels same time last year."

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONERS OF PILOTS, NO. 69 SOUTH-ST.—NEW-YORK, April 16, 1863.—The case of Hamill, pilot of boat No. 9, for refusing to pilot into port prize schooner Sue, came before the Board of Commissioners on 14th inst., on a complaint from the captain of that vessel.

The excuse of the pilot was the fact that he and other pilots had been wholly unable to collect money due them for past services of the same kind,—and a general feeling amongst the pilots—of unwillingness to pilot prize vessels for this reason.

It appears that since the war commenced, some two years since, no pilotage (with a very few exceptions) for prize vessels had been collected, and there are at the present time fifty cases of pilotage on such vessels unpaid.

For this reason, and in consequence of his ignorance of a law of Congress to enable him to collect such claim, recently passed, and Hamill being a good and faithful pilot, and expressing regret at his error, and his promise that the offence shall not be repeated,

On due deliberation he was reprimanded. Due notice was given to all pilots that a refusal to pilot a vessel requiring their services for the future, would on no account whatever be excused.

The Board take this opportunity of expressing their regrets that the proceedings in prize cases are not conducted with sufficient dispatch to insure the prompt payment of the pilotage, as provided by the Act of Congress. By order. F. PERKINS, Secretary.

QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON CITY, March 19, 1863.

OWNERS OF STEAM VESSELS ARE INvited to send to the Quartermaster-General's Office tenders for their charter or sale.

Senders should contain descriptions of the vessels, their dimensions, enrolled or registered tonnage, actual carrying capacity, material, whether coppered, whether side-wheel or propellers, whether iron or copper fastened, size and power of engines and boilers; and should state the price at which they are offered, for long or short charter, with the estimated value of the vessel in case of loss, or in case the Government should prefer to purchase instead of chartering.

Owners of steam vessels already in the service of the Quartermaster's Department are requested to make known to the Department any reduction in their present rates which they may be willing to grant, and also the price at which they will be willing to sell them.

All such tenders should be addressed to the Quartermaster-General of the United States at Washington, and should be indorsed,

"Proposals for charter or sale of steamers."

When received they will be considered, and the Department will endeavor to reduce the heavy expense attending army transportation, upon the ocean and tide-waters, by substituting, wherever it can do so, cheaper vessels of equal capacity for those now employed.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

Richmond papers of the 16th state that all is quiet at Charleston. Our forces were occupying Coles, Kiawah and Seabrook Islands, "protected by the gunboats."

We have this morning the official reports of a brisk affair which occurred on the Nansemond River, near Suffolk, Eastern Virginia, on the 14th inst., between two or three of our gunboats and the rebels. The enemy opened upon our boats—the Commodore Barney, the Stepping Stones and the Mount Washington—with artillery, about 11½ o'clock A. M., but were silenced in an hour. About 1 o'clock P.M. they again opened with artillery and sharpshooters, but were again silenced after a smart action lasting some four hours. This information was furnished to the Navy Department on the day of the occurrence. A subsequent dispatch from Admiral Lee, dated on the evening of the 16th, states that the enemy had not succeeded in crossing the river, and that they were believed to be retreating, though they still had some artillery and sharpshooters in the vicinity. Our total loss was five killed and eighteen wounded. The rebel loss was probably much heavier, as the fire of the gunboats was very effective. The rebel force was no doubt a part of Longstreet's command, which has for several days been threatening Suffolk.

From the Bermudian of April 1 we learn that the Confederate steamer Gen. Beauregard, Capt. Coxetter, from Savannah, with 1,026 bales of cotton and 7 casks of turpentine and tobacco, arrived at the port of St. George on March 24. The same paper states that two American vessels, a brig and a schooner, both from Baltimore, with assorted cargoes for Jamaica, had been totally wrecked on the Caicos reefs.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, yesterday, the Rome and Oswego, the Malden and the Newtown and Astoria Railroad bills were ordered to a third reading. The Assembly amendment to the New-York Harbor Defence bill, increasing the appropriation to $1,000,000, was non-concurred in, and a Conference Committee was appointed. The bill authorizing dummy engines on the Brooklyn Central Railroad was passed. The bill authorizing the Mayor and Comptroller of New-York to appoint thirty Tax Marshals was lost. The resolutions introduced by Mr. Low, pledging the State to support the Administration in the vigorous prosecution of the war, were adopted. The Senate refused to consider a resolution for final adjournment.

In the Assembly, the majority report of the Callicot Investigating Committee, declaring Mr. Callicot innocent of the charges brought against him, was presented, and was made the special order for Monday evening. The minority report was presented during the evening session. The bill facilitating the construction of a railroad on the Upper Hudson was passed; also Mr. Dean's bill amending the Metropolitan Police act; also the Annual Tax bill.

GENERAL NEWS.

The steamship British Queen arrived at this port last night, from Havana on the 11th inst. There is some additional intelligence from Mexico, but nothing of importance. Two French men-of-war had arrived from Vera Cruz, which port they left on the 4th. They reported that nothing new had occurred—a report which was considered in Havana as auguring badly for the French. The steamship North Star, which had put into Havana, damaged in the same gale in which the Marion was lost, had continued her voyage to Aspinwall on the 10th.

The Committee on Water Defences, and the Committee on Ordnance of the Harbor Defence Commission, gave hearings privately to several gentlemen yesterday, in explanation of various plans. To-day the Commission are to witness the operation of a rifled battery, at a point a short distance from the City.

In the Court of Sessions, yesterday, before Recorder Hoffman, Patrick Quinn was convicted of picking the pocket of Isaac Leonard of $120, and sentenced to the State Prison for two years. Thos. Williams pleaded guilty to petit larceny, and was sentenced to the Penitentiary for six months. John H. Harris and Isaiah W. Wormly, were jointly convicted of grand larceny, and remanded for sentence. James Carroll and James McDonald jointly pleaded guilty to petit larceny, and were sent to the House of Refuge.

Gold Coin closed dull yesterday at a decline of 1 ℔ cent., while Exchange was better than for Wednesday's mail in respect to the actual amount of business done. There was marked buoyancy in speculation on the Stock Exchange, extending through the Share list generally.

Breadstuffs were in rather more demand yesterday, but closed tamely at drooping prices. Provisions and Groceries were more freely dealt in. East India Rice was brisker and dearer. Whisky was in fair request at, however, easier rates. Ingot Copper, Straits Tin, prime Tallow, Fire-crackers and Foreign Liquors were in demand. Most other articles were sparingly purchased. Freights were dull.

War Work in Summer Time.—A recent article, which we quoted from the Richmond Examiner, prophesied that the campaign and the war would culminate in June next, and that a rebel victory would end the war, as the Union troops could not operate in the South after June. Jeff. Davis seems to throw out the same idea in his message, when he predicts that the falling waters and the increasing heats of Summer will complete our discomfiture.

These rebels must have short memories. The heats of last Summer, which were very intense, did not put a stop upon our operations either in the East or West. June, July, August, and September, were the four battle months of the year, and were only equaled by the Winter month of December, which witnessed three of our greatest battles. At the beginning of June the battle of Fair Oaks was fought, and the terrible series of battles on the Peninsula, together with Fremont's campaign in the Shenandoah Valley followed—not to speak of the naval battle above Memphis, and the occupation of that city on the 6th, the battle on James Island, S. C., on the 16th, and many actions in Mississippi. On the 1st of July the battle of Malvern Hill was fought, and there was an engagement of respectable size almost every day in the month. In August came the great and severe Virginia campaign of Gen. Pope. In September was the Maryland campaign of Gen. McClellan, the Kentucky campaign of Gen. Buell, and some of the hardest fighting of the war, including Rosecrans' victory of Iuka, in Mississippi. All this, beside heavy campaigning in Arkansas, and, indeed, all over the South. If we have as much hard work in the hot months of this year, as we had in those of last, neither the rebel army nor ours will complain of idleness.

Rally of the Loyalty of the North.

There is to be another mass meeting of our loyal citizens on Monday next at Madison-square. It is called under the auspices of the original Loyal League, whose Chairman, Gen. Scott, has consented to preside on the occasion. The day selected for this meeting is the anniversary of that grand uprising of the loyalty of the Northern States which immediately followed the infamous and treasonable attack on Fort Sumter, and which first gave the world to understand that whatever political or partisan differences might have prevailed among the people of the loyal States, they were all laid aside the moment the flag of our common country was insulted and the existence of the nation put in peril. The gathering two years ago on Union-square was the most important event in the history of the war thus far. The meeting of Monday, we trust, will be equally significant, and equally important in its influence and results.

It will be observed, from the list of speakers announced, and from the general tenor of the call, that prominent members of the Democratic party will take a leading part in the proceedings. The primary object of the Loyal League, as we understand it, is not to give prominence to any party issue, nor to promote any party purpose, but to unite the energies of all men, of all parties, and without regard to their political or party differences, in a common effort to crush the rebellion by force of arms, and thus pave the way for a return of the great mass of the Southern people to the Union and the Constitution. We have never doubted that the great body of the Democratic party are for preserving the Union, and for crushing the rebellion, which alone threatens its existence. We do not doubt that they look upon a vigorous prosecution of the war as the only means by which that result can be brought about. And, in spite of all the efforts that may be made to drive or seduce the Democratic party from that position, we believe it will hold it with fidelity and firmness, and will insist upon the adoption of that policy by this Administration, and by any other that may succeed it.

We are well aware that the Democratic Party does not indorse very many of the acts of the Administration. We have no right to ask such an indorsement at its hands. Upon any of the details of Administration, upon any of the measures which the President and Congress may see fit to adopt, that party has a perfect right to its own opinions. It may, with perfect propriety, protest against the Proclamation of Emancipation, the policy of arbitrary arrests, the enlistment of negro soldiers, and any other measure of the Administration. All we have a right to demand is, that it shall not resist or thwart the execution of any law, or assume a position of active hostility to any policy which the Government may deem necessary to the suppression of the rebellion. It has no right to resist the execution of the Conscription act, nor to defeat the enforcement of any law of Congress while it stands upon the statute book.

With the exception of a few factious members who seem to be acting purely from motives of personal selfishness and ambition, the great mass of the Democratic Party are perfectly loyal in their sentiments and position. While they oppose the Administration in many of its measures, as they have a perfect right to do, they assert the supreme necessity of crushing the rebellion by force of arms, and preserving the Union at whatever sacrifice of party views and opinions. The meeting of Monday invites all such Democrats to proclaim anew their purposes to the world. It sets forth no party platform; it seeks no party triumph; it aims at the accomplishment of no party or personal ends. Its sole object is to rally the loyalty of the country to the rescue of the Constitution and the Union; and in that most laudable and patriotic endeavor we trust it will be sustained by the great mass of the people, without regard to political divisions of any kind whatever.

The Soldier's Right to Vote.

We trust our State Legislature will lose no time in taking steps so to amend the Constitution as to permit citizens of the State, while absent in the military service of the nation, to vote by proxy. The required amendment can be passed by this Legislature,—and also by the next; and can then be submitted to the popular vote soon enough to secure to our soldiers in the field the exercise of their right of suffrage in the Presidential canvass of November, 1864. It is due to them and to the country, that they should have this right: and the Union men of our Legislature should see to it that nothing is left undone which they can do to secure it to them.

Gov. Seymour, in his recent Message to the Legislature, gives that body distinctly to understand that he shall veto a law conferring upon soldiers the right to vote except in person, in the election district where they reside. He regards such a law as unconstitutional. We do not doubt the sincerity of his convictions upon this point. It certainly is not free from doubt, and many of the soundest and ablest lawyers in the Republican party agree with Gov. Seymour in his opinion. Nevertheless, if the majority of the members of the Legislature believe that such a law would be constitutional, let them pass it—and then let Gov. Seymour, acting upon his convictions of public duty, return it with his objections. Both will then have done their duty, and each branch of the Government will bear only the responsibility which devolves upon it.

But the measure itself ought not to be defeated by the conflict of opinion between the Governor and the Legislature. The soldier should not be deprived of his right to vote in consequence of such a collision. If it can be secured to him by a simple law, very well; but if not, then let it be secured by an amendment of the Constitution. The Governor has pledged himself to approve such a measure; let him not be enabled to throw the responsibility of its defeat upon the Legislature.

Chivalry and Grub—South Carolina on the Food Question.

There are no such unerring indices of the actual condition of the internal affairs of the Confederacy as the official documents of its rulers. Other rebel representations almost invariably are fashioned to suit the sanguine wish rather than the hard reality; but the responsible men in power have to deal with stern facts, which cannot be kept back or glossed over without ruin. Of course the authorities will always do their best to encourage, just as do the officers of a sinking ship; but, nevertheless, they must give some adequate conception of the real danger, or they will go under on the spot.

We printed yesterday the important address of Jeff. Davis to the rebels for some tremendous effort to save the land from famine. This morning we publish the equally significant message of Gov. Bonham, of South Carolina, to the Legislature, which he has summoned to extra session on special business. The dread danger of insufficient food is also the burden of this paper, but it is yet more to be noted for its complaints of the low state of public spirit which in great measure makes a dead letter of the legislative enactments for public relief.

Most assuredly, if there is a State in the Confederacy which, we ought to assume, would make greater sacrifice than any other for the Confederacy, it is South Carolina. It was that State which originated the secession idea, a generation ago; which afterward labored untiringly year after year to proselyte the South to it; which was the first to apply it practically in an overt ordinance of secession; and which, by its astounding audacity in opening fire upon the old flag, gave it a momentum it could never otherwise have acquired. No other Southern State went into this revolutionary business with anything like the unanimity or the intensity of feeling South Carolina did. It has had, too, extraordinary influences toward keeping that feeling firmly up to that pitch—particularly the long occupation by the National forces of its most valuable portion, and the standing menace of the capture of its chief city. We should expect public spirit here in its very purest and strongest form. But how is it, according to Gov. Bonham?

He complains that the law limiting the production of cotton to three acres to a full hand is practically evaded by the practice of putting all the fertilizers of the plantation on this cotton reserve, at the expense of the portion devoted to esculents. He complains that "the spirit of speculation has recently made alarming strides in the State," so as to keep articles of prime necessity from the market. He complains that the law against the distillation of spirits from the cereal grains, "though stringent in its penalties, does not accomplish its object." "No one seems willing to become an informer," and he has "yet to hear of the first prosecution." Even that portion of the law which allows permits to be issued for distillation "for medical purposes" has opened the door for abuses in the way of "underletting and violations of contract." He complains, also, that the act to supply negro labor for coast defences, "cannot be made effectual." In the most important district, less than one-fifth of the number called for by the Confederate General has been supplied.

These complaints are so varied in their subject matter, and yet have, in common, such a vital bearing upon the Confederacy, that it is impossible not to regard them as so many proofs of the thorough demoralization of the public sentiment of the State in its relations to the Confederate Government. It is palpable that the ruling maxim now among the chivalry is the most damaging as well as the most vulgar one: "Take care of number one, whoever else goes to the dogs." Even the Governor himself, in spite of all his efforts, cannot rise above this feeling; for he calls for additional legislation to enable him to prevent the exportation of all provisions from the State. Whatever becomes of the Confederacy, South Carolina is first of all to keep herself comfortable. Considering that South Carolina has nearly twice as much improved land within its area as any other State, aside from Virginia—and considering, too, that her slave population, which is her producing power, bears a larger proportion to her entire population than is the case in any other State, this refusal to let any of its articles of food pass beyond its limits to the relief of other portions of the Confederacy, is certainly about as sordid a policy as was ever heard of. It is a pretty style of backing up friends. Governor and people are all of a piece.

Gov. Vance, of North Carolina, we feel bound to say, shows better—owing doubtless to the fact that, as an original opponent of secession, he is but a neophyte in chivalric ideas. He, too, proclaims that "unless those still at home strain every nerve to produce bread, our cause may be ruined;" but he forbears to reconvene the Legislature which lately adjourned, as he says, "without taking action to prevent this much dreaded state of things." He confines himself to an urgent entreaty of the people to do their utmost to raise food; and he makes his appeal particularly in the name of the suffering army, which the South Carolina Governor almost completely ignores. Not a word is said by Gov. Vance against sending provisions out of the State. His whole address is pervaded with devotion to the common cause, in singular contrast with the intense selfishness of the chivalric functionary south of him. There is a good deal that is suggestive in this difference.

Practically, however, it all comes to the same in the end. There is no style of appeal, nor any sort of expedient which will secure the necessaries of life to the Confederacy. The people have been deluded with the idea that the war was near its close, and their spirit has died away as the hard truth has come home to them. Even were they filled with zeal for their unholy cause, they would find it hardly possible, under the almost universal consumption of their white able-bodied men, to make good the supplies of food which have always before been drawn from the country outside of the present limits of the Confederacy. But without this moral stimulus to impel and sustain a Herculean effort, the difficulty becomes a sheer impossibility.

When Will the Draft Be Enforced?

It seems to have been contemplated by the framers of the Conscription act of the late Congress that it would not be possible to arrange all the details for putting it in operation before the 1st of July next. The 10th section of the act provides that the general enrollment of the militia for the purpose of drafting "shall only embrace those whose ages shall be, on the first day of July thereafter between twenty and forty-five years." And the 11th section provides that "all persons thus enrolled shall be subject for two years after the first of July succeeding the enrollment, to be called into the military service of the United States, and to continue in service for three years or during the war." It seems from this reading that persons liable to military duty under the Conscription act, cannot be called into the service previously to the "first of July."

It appears from the Washington correspondence of an evening cotemporary, that this clause in the eleventh section of the act is considered by some an inadvertence, and a very unfortunate one, as causing an unnecessary delay in the raising of troops by conscription. But the fixing of the 1st of July for the beginning of liability to do military service was not an oversight. It was a matter of deliberate calculation, as the 10th section of the act clearly proves; for that section fixes the 1st of July as the date from which the years of age are to be reckoned that begin and limit the period of liability to military service. It is evident from sections 10 and 11, that the lawmakers meant to date the beginning of Conscript Service from July 1.

It is not at all clear to us that any needless delay in raising troops by draft will occur from the provision of the Conscript act in question. It is an enormous labor to enroll the militia of a great nation. It cannot be done in one month, nor in two. It is a month and a half since the act was passed, and yet, in all that time the War Department has not been able to fix upon suitable agents to execute the law in the various States. The district provost-marshals and enrolling boards are not yet appointed, though we learn that the list is nearly complete, and will be announced in a few days. It will certainly require a longer time for the Board of Enrolment in every district to number the people subject to military duty than has been consumed in their own selection and appointment. Our experience in this City, last Fall, where an enrollment commenced in September was not completed till late in November, teaches us what a cumbrous and dragging work it is. If the enrolling Boards are appointed, organized, and ready to begin their duties by the 1st of May, it will be as much as we expect. Give them only six weeks for the completion of their herculean labors, and we shall have the lists prepared for drafting not before the middle of June. Suppose the draft to take place instantly, the act allows the drafted men ten days before they are required to report for duty. In this time they may procure substitutes, or close up their business and prepare to take the field. It thus appears, that under the most energetic and expeditious execution of the act that is possible, it must necessarily be the last week of June before troops can be obtained under it. The fixing of the 1st day of July for the beginning of its operative power to put men in the field is, therefore, not a blunder, but a careful and successful calculation to make available every day of the duration of the act, for the national defence.

We do not anticipate any great emergency that will call for reinforcements of the armies in the field before the Conscript act can yield them. If there should, however, be a crisis demanding extraordinary efforts to meet the enemy, the volunteer spirit of the country would be equal to the emergency, as it has been time and again heretofore.

Jeff. Davis on the Rebel Situation.

The address which Jeff. Davis has just published to the people of the Confederate States is a singular compound of boasting and despondency. It would be hard to tell, unless one knew the obdurate character of the rebel President, whether he meant to cheer his people by assurances of final success, or alarm them to extraordinary efforts by presages of imminent disaster. Friend and foe of the Confederacy can alike derive comfort from the rebel exhibit of the situation; and the address should be hailed with as much satisfaction North, as South of Mason and Dixon's line.

Davis informs his rebel supporters, (for their encouragement,) that in the past two years, "unaided and alone," they have "met and overthrown the most formidable combinations of naval and military armaments that the lust of conquest ever gathered for the conquest of a free people." In proof, in regard to our naval overthrow, he states that the Union fleet, last August, amounted to "four hundred and thirty-seven vessels," of which, he continues, "we have captured and sunk several, including two large frigates and one steam sloop-of-war, while four of their captured gunboats are now in our possession, adding to the strength of our little navy." A serious disaster, that, to our navy of "four hundred and thirty-seven vessels," and it is too bad that the rebel chief did not allow the navy any credit, by way of offset, for such trifling successes as the capture of Hatteras, Hilton Head, New-Orleans and Memphis, or for the intolerable blockade of the entire Southern coast, which neutral nations insist on declaring effective.

Having asserted the rebel success by sea, Jeff. Davis is equally positive in assuming the brilliant and unvarying success of the rebels by land. He insists that on "numerous battle-fields" they have inflicted "crushing defeats on successive [Union] armies," but whether he means to indicate Antietam, where the rebels did not gain possession of Maryland, or Perryville, where they did not win Kentucky, or Stones' River, where they did not rescue Tennessee, or Prairie Grove, where they did not save Arkansas and Missouri, we cannot tell. The careful Jeff. is reticent, and leaves the fecund imagination of his people to conjure up the victories they have won and their fruits.

But having "overthrown" the military forces of the Union for two years, by sea and by land to his satisfaction, Davis looks at the present situation of affairs with vast complacency. He assures his followers that within a few weeks "the falling waters and the increasing heats of Summer" will compel the National armies to abandon the expeditions on the Mississippi River, on which depended the chief hope of their subjugation. Singular delusion! Did it never occur to Mr. Jefferson Davis that the falling waters may rise again, though it be nearly a year hence, and that the heats of Summer have been endured by National armies in South Carolina and at New-Orleans, without injury to their health and efficiency?

The foregoing is the encouraging side of the rebel President's address. We submit it for what it is worth; and surely that is not much. On the other hand, there is what was intended for a stimulating view of the rebel situation, but it becomes, from the painful nature of the facts, in our opinion, profoundly discouraging. The address admits that "the war is not yet ended," and that numerous fleets and powerful armies still confront them. It admits that there is "a danger" to the Confederacy which is to be regarded with "apprehension." There was a deficient harvest last year, and there may be a like misfortune this year; and with meat and bread both lacking, and so alarmingly scarce as to lead to a special address from the President, it is impossible to join in the cheerful view presented of the prospect of the rebellion. With his dismal exposition of the strait the rebel Government is in to feed its army, we may well afford to suffer two years more of "crushing defeats" by land and sea, provided they lead to exactly similar results—the continued retreat of the rebellion before our armies, and the continued exhaustion of the supplies on which the rebellion has fed. If the war must needs linger, we could hardly have the prospect more favorable for continued National strength and increasing rebel weakness than it is—Jeff. Davis himself being witness.

Amusements.

Academy of Music—Last Matinee of the Season.—Mr. Maretzek announces the last matinée of the season for to-day. Donizetti's opera of "La Favorita" will be given entire, and with an effective distribution of the leading parts. On Monday evening the season closes, with a benefit to Signor Mazzoleni, when "Un Ballo Maschera" is advertised for performance.

Gottschalk's Concerts.—Mr. Gottschalk gives a matinée at Irving Hall this morning. He will be assisted by Mlle. Louise Vivier, Miss Eugenie Barnetche, Mr. Wm. Castle, and the celebrated Bretto children—Emile, 13 years of age, and Bernard, 11, who are both accomplished violinists, and Ricardo, who rivals his tutor, L. Schreiber, on the cornet. This is Mr. Gottschalk's last appearance but one for the present.

Wallack's—Benefit of Mr. Moss.—One of the most flattering testimonials of the theatrical season is, about this period of the year, annually paid by the frequenters of Wallack's to Mr. Theodore Moss, the Treasurer of the establishment. As a rule, the entertainments offered at his benefit are specially attractive, and the audiences unusually large in numbers and friendly in disposition. This evening there will be no exception to the rule. Two charming pieces—novelties here—will be played, and a great crowd will surely gather to enjoy them, and at the same time show the good-will they bear toward the beneficiary. Mr. Moss is held in universal esteem by the profession with which his duties bring him into confidential intercourse, and by the play-going public that deals with him in stalls and private boxes. To both he is invariably attentive and urbane, and both will unite this evening in proving that their regard for him is as substantial as it is sincere.

The following orders have been issued in the Marine Corps:

Refugees.—Mrs. R. T. Ventress, an invalid husband and two sons, a loyal refugee family from New-Orleans, are now in this City, entirely destitute of means. They are making an effort to raise the sum of $125, in order to purchase a horse and cart, with which the eldest son hopes to be able to support the family. Gen. McClellan, Peter Cooper, J. H. Marshall, Cambridge Livingston, with other well-known citizens, have already subscribed to the fund. Any further subscriptions may be forwarded to Mrs. Ventress, at No. 93 East 32d-street, or to the house of Messrs. H. Welles & Christie, No. 35 Cortlandt-street.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

Washington, Friday, April 17.

TAXATION OF INCOMES.

Upon calculations carefully made in the Revenue Department, it is expected that from the taxation of incomes, which will commence on the 1st of May, a large revenue will be produced—quite sufficient to make up the deficit in the estimates of Ex-Commissioner Boutwell.

Until regulations are prescribed by the Treasury Department for the payment of claims for drawbacks of excise duties paid on exported merchandise, such claims will be settled as heretofore, at the office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

THE NATIONAL BANK AND TREASURY NOTES.

Secretary Chase has rejected all the designs offered for the National Bank and Treasury notes, and requested the Continental, National and American Companies to present fresh results of art before the expiration of three weeks, in competition for work upon both descriptions of plates. It turns out that the largest number of designs submitted was from the Continental Company.

TO BE EXCHANGED.

Arrangements are being made for the exchange of Gens. Willich and Stoughton. They are the only Union Generals held by the rebels.

DECLINED AND ACCEPTED.

Hanson A. Risley has declined the Consulship at Jamaica, and has accepted from Secretary Chase the office of Agent under the act regulating commerce with rebel districts.

EXAMINING SURGEONS.

Sentences of different degrees of severity were allotted, but in view of the President's Proclamation, that portion of the sentences that imposes a fine greater than amount of pay and allowances which accrued them respectively during absence without leave, is remitted.

BIDS FOR BEEF.

The following bids were received to-day for furnishing beef cattle to the Government. The last contracts made were at $4 95 per one hundred. #### FOREIGN POSTAGE.

Instructions have been given to the Postmaster at New-York to make up his correspondence for Mexico, and forward it to the office of the British Packet Agent at Havana, Cuba, for transmission thence to its destination in the British mail. Correspondence thus forwarded by way of Havana, and transported thence by British mail packets to Tampico and Vera Cruz, will be subject to combined United States and British postage charges—thirty-four cents the single rate on a half an ounce or under for letters, and six cents each for newspapers, prepayment required. Correspondence for Mexico, conveyed to Havana in the British mail, and forwarded thence to the United States, will be subject to precisely the same rates of United States postage, on delivery, as are charged upon like correspondence originating in Cuba and addressed to the United States, viz.: ten cents for letters, and two cents for newspapers. The reduced postage charge of two cents the single rate on prepaid letters will, in future, be extended to the entire correspondence exchanged in the United States and the Russian closed mail, so that letters to or from Baden, Russia, (including Poland,) Sweden, Norway, Denmark, and all other countries beyond Germany, will have the benefit of the reduced prepaid rate. The single rate of letter postage by the Prussian closed mail will be, to Prussia, Austria and the German States, prepaid, twenty-eight cents; unpaid, thirty cents. To Russia, including Poland, prepaid, thirty-five cents; unpaid, thirty-seven cents. To Denmark, prepaid, thirty-three cents; unpaid, thirty-five cents. To Sweden, prepaid, forty; unpaid, forty-two cents. To Norway, prepaid, thirty-three; unpaid, thirty-five cents. And so to all other countries beyond Germany, two cents less being charged for prepaid than for unpaid letters.

The Hatchway Accident in Broadway.—Coroner Wildey yesterday impanneled a jury in the case of the two young women, Angelina Portlippi and Josephine Thompson, who died from falling down a hatchway, on Thursday evening, at No. 327 Broadway—a full account of which was published in the Times of yesterday. After the jury had viewed the bodies, the Coroner thought it best to postpone the further investigation of the matter until 10 o'clock this morning to enable the jurors to visit the premises where the accident occurred. An employe of the firm of Cowdin & Co. has furnished us with the information that he was the only person who witnessed the calamity; that at about 5¾ o'clock P. M., on Thursday, he went to the fifth loft where the packing is done; that while he was there he saw the two girls come out of the work-room, and jump on the sliding-door over the hoistway, (then closed,) one saying to the other, "Come, let us take a ride." They then pressed their backs against the wall, which caused the sliding-door to move so quickly that both lost their balance and were instantly precipitated through the hoistway.

Arrivals in the City.

One Word to the Ladies.—We supposed that the ultima thule in the art had been reached months ago, when we saw, for the first time, a Grover & Baker Machine in full action; but now, a lady friend, well posted in all matters pertaining thereto, informs us that an important part of the performance escaped our notice, and in proof thereof, exhibits to our astonished gaze her little boy's frock, embroidered with tasteful and fanciful designs, which she informs us was all done, stitching, embroidery and all, on the same machine. This is certainly remarkable, but nevertheless true, and if all the purchasers of these celebrated machines are as enthusiastic as is our friend, the proprietors must be having one continual "hymn of praise" ascending in their behalf.—N. Y. Examiner.

DEAFNESS
NOISES IN THE HEAD,
Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,
CATARRH CURED
BY
Dr. VON EISENBERG.

From the Journal of Commerce.

Exciting News for the Deaf.—An instrument called Dr. Von Eisenberg's Air Passage Expander and Regulator, a gigantic machine, weighing nearly five hundred pounds, about five feet in height, a most wonderful apparatus for restoring sight and hearing, has just arrived for Dr. Von Eisenberg, the celebrated Oculist and Aurist, and will be on exhibition at the Doctor's office, No. 816 Broadway, for a few days previous to its use. The instrument is constructed decidedly on the most scientific principles. To give a detailed description would require a greater space than we can now spare. Our Oculist and Aurist seems to do everything in the line of his profession on a gigantic scale. The new instrument for restoring hearing to the deaf and sight to the blind is so constructed that it cannot fail to open the most obstructed air passages. His new consulting rooms, No. 816 Broadway, are correspondingly magnificent, and his practice as Aurist and Oculist large and eminently successful.

From the New-York Evening Express, Feb. 14, 1863.

Sensation Among the Deaf.—The unrivaled skill of Dr. Von Eisenberg, the far-famed Oculist and Aurist, of No. 816 Broadway, has made quite a sensation among the Deaf and Blind by his wonderful cures, which attract the Deaf, Blind and those suffering from Chronic Catarrh, from all parts of the Union to his office. The number of his certificates of really wonderful cures swells daily. For the benefit of sufferers, we submit the following, which requires no comment:

New-York, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR,
No. 13 Livingston-st., Brooklyn.

New-York, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

No. 188 Mercer-st., New-York.

J. E. Von Eisenberg, M. D.—Dear Doctor: I have been afflicted with total deafness, and was induced to pay you a visit. No one can imagine my delight when, after one operation, my hearing was suddenly, and without pain, restored to me, for which I feel very grateful. After being totally deaf—almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense—to have it returned, and to hear so distinctly, reflects great credit on you for the immense amount of skill you possess. I beg to thank you for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

New-York, Nov. 6, 1862.

Dr. Von Eisenberg—Dear Sir: Before taking leave of you, after your most successful operation on my ear, allow me to express my sincere thanks that, by your scientific surgical performance, I am enabled to hear distinctly, and enjoy a pleasure of which I have long been deprived—over a year. May you be rewarded by being enabled to perform many similar, to benefit other sufferers, and to your own emolument.

Allow me to present my kindest regards, and assure you of my grateful remembrance. Respectfully,

A. McDONALD REYNOLDS,
Captain Marines, United States.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ
New-York, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.
WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.
WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

Statement of George I. E. Lasher, Esq., a wealthy and influential citizen of Montgomery County, N. Y.

Spraker's Basin, Jan. 3, 1860.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co.:

I take pleasure in stating the good results of the use of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY in this vicinity. For the past ten years I have observed its effect in cases of sudden colds as well as in seated coughs. I have used it in my family, and have induced many others to make use of it, in some instances where the case was considered very critical.

I am happy to state that the effect has always proved satisfactory, and I would earnestly recommend its use without delay to all persons in any way afflicted with throat or lung diseases. Very truly, yours,

GEORGE I. E. LASHER.

Which are the evidences of
LIVER COMPLAINT AND DYSPEPSIA.

It is estimated that seven-tenths of all adult ailments proceed from a diseased and torpid liver. The biliary secretions of the liver overflowing into the stomach poison the entire system and exhibit the above symptoms.

After long research, we are able to present the most remarkable cure for these horrid nightmare diseases the world has ever produced. Within one year, over six hundred and forty thousand persons have taken the Plantation Bitters, and not an instance of complaint has come to our knowledge!

It is a most effectual tonic and agreeable stimulant, suited to all conditions of life.

The reports that it relies upon mineral substances for its active properties, are wholly false. For the public satisfaction, and that patients may consult their physicians, we append a list of its components.

Calisaya Bark—Celebrated for over two hundred years in the treatment of Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Weakness, &c. It was introduced into Europe by the Countess, wife of the Viceroy of Peru, in 1640, and afterwards sold by the Jesuits for the enormous price of its own weight in silver, under the name of Jesuit's Powders, and was finally made public by Louis XVI., King of France. Humboldt makes especial reference to its febrifuge qualities during his South American travels.

Cascarilla Bark—For diarrhea, colic and diseases of the stomach and bowels.

Dandelion—For inflammation of the loins and dropsical affections.

Camomile Flowers—For enfeebled digestion.

Lavender Flowers—Aromatic, stimulant and tonic—highly invigorating in nervous debility.

Wintergreen—For scrofula, rheumatism, &c.

Anise—An aromatic carminative; creating flesh, muscle and milk; much used by mothers nursing.

Also, clove-buds, orange, carraway, coriander, snake-root, &c.

S. T.—1860—X.

Another wonderful ingredient, of Spanish origin, imparting beauty to the complexion and brilliancy to the mind, is yet unknown to the commerce of the world, and we withhold its name for the present.

IMPORTANT CERTIFICATES.

I am respectfully yours, Rev. J. S. CATHORN.

"IN HOC VINCES."
ROMAINE'S CRIMEAN BITTERS.
ORIGIN—USED IN UNITED STATES HOSPITALS.

This remarkable preparation was used to some extent, in a modified form, in the French Army Hospitals during the late Crimean war, when its efficacy was demonstrated, not only as a preventive of several diseases incident to camp life, but as an efficient Tonic and Alterative.

With the intelligent, it will be conceded that in no part of the world have physiological science and the medical art attained to greater eminence than in France; hence the medical preparations of her thoroughly educated physicians are entitled to, and universally receive much confidence. Notwithstanding testimonials of an undoubted character were furnished us that it had been subjected to severe tests, to a considerable degree, in private practice, we deemed it prudent, before its general introduction to the American public, to test it by the same ordeals. But first it was submitted to examination as well as combination, to two of our most distinguished analytical chemists, viz.: Drs. James R. Chilton and Julius G. Pohle, both long and well-known residents of New-York, whose joint certificate is annexed, which, at a glance, will assure the the most skeptical of its great medicinal virtues.

The next step was to introduce it to the Assistant Surgeon of the United States Hospital in Newark, N. J., with a simple request to administer it to invalid soldiers in order to test more particularly its tonic and restorative properties, which was continued for several months, resulting in justifying all that we had anticipated. In addition to this it effected a cure, in a brief time, of several inveterate cases of Fever and Ague, which had defied the usual remedy of quinine.

Simultaneously, however, with its introduction to the United States Hospital, by ourselves and through friends, it was used by invalids connected with some of the most respectable families in New-York, Brooklyn, and other adjacent cities, afflicted with diseases, some of which were of a chronic character, others who were convalescents only, and responses from all, of the most favorable character, have been received; therefore, with such results, we present it to the public, claiming immunity from the charge of introducing an untried and worthless article.

ROMAINE'S CRIMEAN BITTERS
Is composed of Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, with nine other Medicinal Plants, Roots and Extracts, chiefly products of the Tropics of Asia and America. To the original formula an addition has been made of one more herb, by the advice of one of the first physicans of New-York, with a view of curing the lighter forms of Neuralgia and Rheumatism.

We claim for it, as the result of trials, a cure for Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia and its usual offspring, viz.: Indigestion, Constipation, Flatulence, Sick and Nervous Headache, Nausea—General Debility, Colic, Sea-Sickness. By its daily use in the tropics it will act as a preventive of Bilious Intermittent Fever; also, by its Tonic properties, counteract the enervating effects of the climate. It pleasantly exhilarates, but is followed by no stupefying reaction.

The Professional of every class, especially of sedentary life, will find, by daily use, nothing so well adapted to strengthen and cheer both mind and body. The aged will also find it a pleasant and sure staff.

CERTIFICATE.

New-York, Feb. 14, 1863.

From a knowledge of the ingredients and their proportions entering into the composition known as "Romaine's Crimean Bitters," we are enabled to speak of it in terms of high commendation. Peruvian Bark being one of its principal constituents, together with herbs, roots and extracts having decided medicinal properties, we have no hesitation in recommending it to physicians and the public generally, as an invigorating tonic, intended to stimulate the digestive organs.

From its alterative properties, it is calculated to prevent, by its daily use in moderate quantities, Constipation, Fever and Ague, mild forms of Neuralgia and Rheumatism. It is an antidote to the effects produced by change of water and diet, correcting Diarrhœa, curing Dyspepsia, Colic, Sick and Nervous Headache, Nausea, Sea Sickness. It is expressly adapted to females of delicate constitutions, and the infirmities of age.

This preparation is composed exclusively of vegetable materials, containing no metallic or mineral substances, whatever. Its taste is aromatic, warming and acceptable to the palate and stomach.

JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D.
JULIUS G. POHLE, M. D.

Certificates from the Assistant Surgeon and one of the attending Physicians of the United States Hospital, at Newark, N. J., attesting the benefits derived from the use of Crimean Bitters, may be seen at the office of the depot.

CAPILLARY DISEASES.

DR. B. C. PERRY,
THE CELEBRATED DERMATOLOGIST,
From No. 29 Winter-st., Boston,
And the only man in this country who has ever made the treatment of
DISEASED SCALPS,
LOSS OF HAIR, an
BLANCHING,
a specialty, has established himself at
NO. 49 BOND-ST., NEW-YORK, where he can be consulted by all who are afflicted with any disease of the scalp, loss of hair, or premature blanching.

Dr. Perry is prepared to treat successfully the following diseases, all of which are productive of a loss of hair:

Debilitation of the External Skin, Suppressed Secretion, Irritation of the Scalp, Dandruff or Thickened Secretion, Inflammation of the Sensitive Skin, Matterated Secretion, Hair Eater, Distended or Swollen Roots, and Premature Blanching.

This is the only method based upon Physiological principles which has ever been presented to the public for the restoration of the Hair.

Particular attention is called to the Doctor's theory of treating DISEASED SCALPS AND RESTORING HAIR.

It no doubt will commend itself to every intelligent and reflecting mind.

There are eighteen Diseases of the Head and Scalp that cause a loss of hair, and in some instances premature blanching, each requiring in its treatment different remedies. Where loss of hair has resulted from any of those diseases, the first thing to be done is to remove the disease by a proper course of treatment; restore the scalp to its normal condition; keep the pores open, so that the secretion can pass off, and in every follicle that is open new strands of hair will make their appearance.

The philosophy of premature blanching is this: Iron and Oxygen are the principal constituents of dark hair; Lime and Magnesia of light hair. When the suppressed secretions between the skins contain an excess of lime, it is taken up by the strands, causing the hair to turn white; by opening the pores, the accumulation of lime passes off with the secretions, the natural components of the hair resume their ascendancy, and the hair resumes its natural color.

Because persons have tried various preparations for the hair, and have been deceived by them, and in some cases their difficulty made worse by their use, they need not be discouraged. The one preparation system for any class of diseases must necessarily prove a failure. No one compound can be available for a dozen or more diseases; it may remove some difficulties, in other cases useless, and in some positively injurious.

Dr. Perry's method is in accordance with the law of cause and effect. He makes a personal examination, ascertains what disease of the scalp has or is producing a loss of hair or premature whitening, prescribes such remedies, according to its nature and requirements, as will remove the disease; hence his success in treating
CAPILLARY DISEASES.

As to Dr. Perry's ability and success in treating diseases of the Scalp, Loss of Hair, and Premature Blanching, he has in his possession the most reliable testimonials from Physicians, Clergymen and others, in every city where he has practiced. They can be seen by calling at his office, No. 49 Bond-st.

ALL CONSULTATIONS FREE.

All inquiries or other communications, address Dr. B. C. PERRY, No. 49 Bond-st.

Entered according to the act, in the year 1861, by B. C. PERRY, in the Clerk's Office in the District Court of the State of Massachusetts.

From Harper's Monthly.

We consider that we are fully warranted in saying that, for all the practical purposes for which such a work is designed, the "New American Cyclopedia" is beyond all comparison the best in our language. We are sure that within these sixteen compact octavo volumes there is comprised more valuable information, far more accurately stated, and with much fewer faults of omission or commission, than in the twenty-one bulky quartos of the "Encyclopædia Britannica."

From the New-York Times.

It is a work written by Americans for Americans. It proffers them the knowledge they most require, selected and arranged by those who are competent to the task, because they themselves had experienced the want they now endeavored to supply. It is minute in points of general interest, and condensed in those of more partial application. Its information is the latest extant, and in advance of any other book of reference in the world. The best talent in the country has been engaged in its production.

From the Tribune.

The greatest literary enterprise ever undertaken in America is, with this volume, brought to a successful conclusion. It was first commenced to the public amid the throes of a great commercial revulsion; it is finished at the crisis of a gigantic civil war. Its aggregate cost cannot well have fallen below half a million dollars, and we infer from the circumstances just alluded to, that this large amount has not yet been returned to the publishers. If not, the more just and cogent is their claim to recognition and patronage from the wealth and culture of a people whom this work so justly and truly honors. There are just three nations in the Old World—France, Great Britain and Germany—capable of submitting so comprehensive and excellent a work to the admiration and gratitude of Christendom. That our country—still considerably within the first century of its recognized existence—should have produced a Cyclopædia which, while it sums up all that is essential of Natural Science, and presents fairly whatever is known of the Eastern Hemisphere, is far fuller and more thorough in its systematic exhibit of the Geography and Topography, the History, Statistics and Biography of this continent, than any preëxisting work, is more truly creditable to it than its three thousand steamers and thirty thousand miles of railroad.

From the Boston Traveller.

The NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA is, indeed, a publication that speaks highly for the enterprise, the skill and the learning of the men who planned it, and who have carried it through to completion in less than six years in a manner which deserves much praise. The task was a great one, and required in the editors tact, patience, learning and powers of labor and application that are seldom to be found, being less often seen than what is known as talent.

From the Atlantic Monthly.

The promises of the editors on the score of impartiality have been well kept. It would be too much to expect them to satisfy everybody, or never to be caught tripping; but in the great questions of religion and politics they seem to have preserved a happy mien between the outspoken freedom of the partisan and the halting timidity of the man who never commits himself because he never has an opinion. Their contributors represent nearly every Christian creed, every shade of politics, and every part of the English speaking world, from Salt Lake City to London, and from Mobile to Montreal.

AUCTION SALES.

SCRANTON COAL AT AUCTION.

Office of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western R. R. Co., No. 35 William-st.,
New-York, April 14, 1863.

In continuation of the system of monthly auction sales, this Company will offer at public auction, on WEDNESDAY, April 22, 1863, at 12 o'clock, noon, at the room now used as the Merchants' Exchange, Nos. 26 and 28 Exchange-place, corner of William-st., by SIMEON DRAPER, auctioneer, embracing all the usual sizes, and deliverable at their depot, Elizabethport, N. J., after the 1st of May next. They will repeat such auction sales on or about the 20th of each month, during the year 1863.

THIRTY THOUSAND TONS OF FRESH MINED SCRANTON COAL,

The sale will be positive. Each lot put up will be sold to the highest bidder; no bids, in any form whatever, being made for account of or on behalf of the Company.

Fifty cents per ton, in bankable funds, to be paid at the time and place of sale, and the balance in like funds, on receiving the order for the coal, which must be calledfor within ten days thereafter, and the coal taken away within thirty days from the day of sale, unless navigation is obstructed. Buyers who wish, however, can have an additional thirty days for taking the delivery of their purchases, by making a further deposit of fifty cents per ton, within the ten days above specified. Interest, at 7 per cent. per annum, will in such case be charged on the balance, from the time stipulated for payment until paid; and twenty-five cents per ton to cover the expense of stocking the coal, both to be paid on delivery of order.

The other conditions of sale will be substantially those hitherto accepted by all purchasers, by private contract, of Coal deliverable at Elizabethport, as far as applicable. The coal will be delivered direct from the cars on their arrival from the mines, when practicable—otherwise from the stock. These conditions will be modified to meet the wants of ocean steamers, whose arrival cannot be definitely fixed.

With a reliable avenue from the Lackawanna and Wyoming Valleys to tide-water, open every day in the year, (Sundays excepted,) requiring but twelve hours for the transit of the trains, the advantages of such sales, and the superior condition in which the coal will be delivered, are so apparent, they cannot doubt this mode of selling will commend itself to the favorable consideration of both the trade and consumers, whose coöperation is respectfully invited.

C. R. ROBERT, President.

UNITED STATES TREASURY,

New-York, April 16, 1863.

Deposits of United States Legal Tender Notes are received at this office as a temporary loan, to remain at least thirty (30) days, and payable at any time thereafter, at the expiration of ten (10) days' notice, together with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent. in like money. From persons residing out of town, drafts on this City will be accepted in lieu of the notes themselves.

JOHN J. CISCO,
Assistant Treasurer United States.

AGENCY OF THE
NATIONAL (FIVE-TWENTY YEAR) LOAN.

Office of Livermore, Clews & Co.,
No. 34 Wall-st., New-York.

We take this means of answering the numerous inquiries made of us respecting the United States Five-Twenty Loan, for which we act as agents.

Said Bonds bear six per cent. interest, payable semi-annually, in gold, on the first of May and the first of November.

Have twenty years to run, but being redeemable at the pleasure of the Government after five years, are designated Five-Twenties.

Are issued both in Coupon and Registered Bonds; the former in denominations of 50's, 100's, 500's, 1,000's; the latter in 50's, 100's, 500's, 1,000's, 5,000's and 10,000's.

The Coupon Bonds have coupons attached for twenty years, and are payable transferable to bearer.

The Registered are issued in the name of the purchaser, (whose name and residence are recorded on the books of the Treasury Department at Washington,) and are only transferable by signature, or power of Attorney, before an authorized Government official. The interest is collected in the same manner at the Sub-Treasury nearest the owner's residence.

Both principal and interest are payable in gold, as provided by act of Congress.

Are, (in common with all Government Bonds,) free from taxation by city, town, county or State; and the income derived therefrom is subject only to one-half of the United States tax levied upon incomes derived from other sources.

The privilege of conversion at par will cease on the 1st of July, 1863.

These Bonds are supplied by us at par and accrued interest in currency—interest commencing to the purchaser upon deposit of the money. Hence, the first coupon falling due, being stamped with the date of the issue of the Bond, will be fractional, instead of three per cent., like the succeeding ones.

We shall shortly be prepared to deliver all the various denominations upon application.

The engravers and printers have been unable to furnish blank bonds to the extent required, but every effort is being made to meet the demand, and it is expected that with the increased force now employed upon them, there will be less delay hereafter.

Orders, by mail or otherwise, accompanied by draft on New-York, or current funds, will be promptly responded to. LIVERMORE, CLEWS & CO., Bankers.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has, for thirty years, confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases, when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb, unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians, in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great, that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it; and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 200 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

ORDNANCE OFFICE.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, March 3, 1863.

PROPOSALS will be received at this office until 4 o'clock P. M., on the 20th of APRIL, 1863, for furnishing six hundred Wrought Iron Beams, for Rails of Chassis of Sea Coast Carriages.

These beams are to be made after the following specifications:

The rail for barbette carriages is a rolled wrought-iron beam, similar in appearance to the "I" shaped beams used in the construction of fire-proof buildings. It is required to be straight and smooth on its surface, and free from flaws, imperfect welds, blisters and cinder streaks. The outer surfaces of the two flanges are planes, parallel to each other and at right angles to the web. The web joins the two flanges along their middle line, leaving them to project equally on each side, and must be without bends or corrugations.

DIMENSION OF BEAMS.

|---|---|---|
| Length of rail | 171 | inches |
| Depth between outer surfaces of flanges | 15 | inches |
| Width of flanges | 5.375 | inches |
| Thickness of flange at outer edge | .75 | inch. |
| Thickness of web | .625 | inch. |

These beams will be inspected after the following rules:

They are to be made of good tough, well-worked, clear iron, the absence of which qualities, (generally indicated by roughness of surface, and by checks, and more marked roughness along the edges of the flanges,) as also flaws or bad welds, blisters and streaks of cinder, will cause their rejection.

1st. They are to be of the required dimensions, and square at the ends.

2d. They are to be straight, and free from short bends in the flanges and web.

3d. The outer plane surfaces of the flanges are to be parallel to each other, and in planes perpendicular to that of the web.

4th. The webs are not to be bent or troughed, as would result from resting the rails along their whole lengths on the edges of the flanges while the webs are too hot to bear their weight.

5th. The flanges are to be perfectly equal on each side of the web.

VARIATIONS ALLOWED IN INSPECTING.

|---|---|
| In length of rail | .50 inch |
| In depth of rail | .10 inch |
| In thickness of web | .05 inch |
| In warp or wind, in depth of flange at extreme end of rail | .10 inch |
| Difference in distance between outer edges of plane surfaces of flanges on different sides of web at any cross section of rail | .10 inch |
| A straight edge of equal length with the rail placed on the outer edge of the flange should not depart from it at any point more than | .15 inch |
| A plane surface placed on the web should not depart from it any point more than | .10 inch |
| A plane surface placed on the plane surface of either flange should not depart from it at any point more than | .10 inch |
| Departure from square in depth of rail | .15 inch |

Specimens of the beams, or drawings of them, can be seen at the United States Arsenals at Fort Monroe, Virginia, Bridesburgh and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Watertown, Massachusetts.

Bidders will state the number of beams they propose to furnish, the time when they will commence the delivery, which should be as early as possible, and the number they can deliver weekly after commencing the delivery, place where they will make them, and the price per pound for which they will deliver them at the point of vessel or railroad shipment nearest to their works.

No bids will be entertained except from persons actually engaged in the manufacture of iron, evidence of which must accompany the bid.

Each party obtaining a contract will be required to enter into bonds, with proper sureties for its faithful fulfillment; and a transfer of the contract to another party will cause its entire forfeiture.

The right is reserved to reject all proposals if the prices are deemed too high, or if for any cause it is not deemed for the public interest to accept them.

Proposals will be sealed and addressed to "GENERAL J. W. RIPLEY, Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C.," and will be indorsed "Proposals for Wrought Iron Beams."

JAS. W. RIPLEY,
Brigadier-General, Chief Ordnance.

J. D. LEWIS & CO.'S system of buying cheap one day, and selling cheap the next, is the very best one in war times.

It is impossible to name half the bargains here that J. D. L. & CO. keep. Let it suffice to say that they have every possible advantage this season in the market, and as they pride themselves in giving the buyer the most they can for his money, every article in their store will be found to be a great bargain.

The Callicot Investigation.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE THE CHARGES MADE AGAINST T. C. CALLICOT, MEMBER OF ASSEMBLY FROM THE FIFTH DISTRICT OF KINGS COUNTY.

IN ASSEMBLY, April 16, 1863.

The Select Committee appointed to investigate the charges against T. C. Callicot, Member of Assembly from the Fifth District of Kings County, respectfully report to the House the evidence taken and the proceedings had before the Committee.

The evidence taken, in the opinion of the Committee, establishes the following facts:

That Mr. Callicot first became a candidate for Speaker of this House, and was voted for as such, on the 16th day of January, 1863; that on Saturday, the 17th of the same month, the Assembly took a recess without having elected a Speaker, and that during that recess, on Monday, the 19th of said month, Mr. Thomas Hope, of Brooklyn, the son-in-law and agent of one Mrs. Mary A. Wood, also of Brooklyn, called upon Mr. Callicot, at his room in Congress Hall, in Albany, for the purpose of obtaining payment of a debt of twelve hundred dollars, which Mr. Callicot then owed Mrs. Wood. That Mr. Hope threatened to use a certain document against him, which he had in his pocket, addressed to Hon. T. C. Fields, the character or nature of which he did not state to him, unless he settled the claim that day; that Mr. Callicot finally promised to telegraph him at New-York next day in relation to the matter; that Mr. Callicot then sought the legal advice of Reynolds, Cochrane & Harris, a law firm of the City of Albany, and Mr. Hamilton Harris, one of the members of the firm, called upon Mr. Callicot on the afternoon of the same day, the 19th of January, at his room in Congress Hall; that Mr. Callicot then stated to him his circumstances in relation to the claim of Mrs. Wood, and the threat that had been made, and Mr. Harris advised him that he had better pay the demand, Mr. Callicot saying that he thought he could borrow the money of his landlord or other friends; that on the following day Mr. Harris again called upon Mr. Callicot, and, upon learning that Mr. Callicot had not been able to borrow the money, offered to loan him twelve hundred dollars to pay the demand, and Mr. Callicot accepted the offer and telegraphed to Mr. Hope to come up; that Mr. Hope came up immediately and remained all night at Congress Hall, and on the following morning—of the 21st—Mr. Harris again called upon Mr. Callicot, loaned him twelve hundred dollars in pursuance of the offer made on the previous day, and took his note on demand for that amount, and that Mr. Callicot immediately thereafter paid Mr. Hope the claim of Mrs. Wood; that there was nothing said at either of the interviews between Mr. Harris and Mr. Callicot, by either of them, in relation to the official influence, action, or votes of Mr. Callicot, as member of Assembly, or Speaker, or in any manner whatever; that neither before, nor after, nor at the time of any interview or interviews between Mr. Callicot and Mr. Harris, was there any agreement, arrangement or understanding, express or implied, that the money was paid Mr. Callicott as a consideration or motive for his official action, influence or votes, as Speaker, member of Assembly, or in any other manner, or that he should become the candidate or nominee of any party or parties, he having been nominated and voted for for Speaker, several days previous to Mr. Hope's coming to Albany to obtain the claim for twelve hundred dollars, which Mr. Callicott borrowed the money to pay.

Ira Shafer, Esq., of Albany, appeared before the Committee as counsel, and conducted the prosecution, and Hon. Lyman Tremain and Hon. C. B. Cochrane appeared before the Committee as the counsel of Mr. Callicot, and conducted the defence.

Previous to the taking of any testimony, Mr. Tremain, as counsel for the defence, objected to any investigation of matters alleged to have transpired prior to the election of Mr. Callicot as a member of the present Assembly, and moved for a decision of the Committee upon the validity of the objection. After hearing the arguments of counsel upon the question, the Committee were of the opinion that the resolution appointing them limited their powers to the investigation of the official acts of Mr. Callicot as a member of this Legislature, and that the investigation should extend as far back as the date of his election, and so decided.

During the course of the investigation, the counsel for Mr. Callicot objected to charge eighth, and to the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth specifications of charge sixth, and moved that all evidence relating to them be excluded, on the grounds stated in the written motion herewith transmitted to the House. The Committee, after hearing the arguments of the respective counsel upon the motion, were of the opinion that charge eighth, being simply "bribery and corruption as a member of this Assembly," was not in any sense "specific," and consequently not within the resolution appointing them; and that specifications fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth of charge sixth did not contain or expresss any charge against Mr. Callicot of "corrupt or criminal conduct in his official character." The Committee were of the opinion that it is not corrupt or criminal for a member of Assembly to accept and take a nomination for the office of Speaker of this House, with an agreement and understanding that his vote, influence and action should be given upon the question of the election of United States Senator, in accordance with the law of the land, and his swore duty as a member of the Legislature, or that his vote, influence and action should be given upon any other question in accordance with his duty; and it is not alleged in either of the specifications mentioned that there was any understanding or agreement by which they were to be given otherwise; nor is there any allegation that they ever were given otherwise.

The person or persons with whom the agreement was made was not stated in the so-called specifications, nor was it alleged for whom or for what it was agreed that his votes should be given. Except that in the 6th specification, there was an allegation that his vote and action were to be influenced upon the question of the election of United States Senator, and in the 7th specification, upon all questions relating to the election of the elective officers of the Assembly, so that, in the opinion of the Committee, if they had heard evidence under these pretended specifications, they would have departed from the instructions given them, which required the charges to be specific, and would have been groping in the dark in search of corrupt and criminal conduct not charged. For those reasons the Committee decided to hear no evidence under those specifications.

It will appear by the proceedings had before the Committee, herewith laid before the House, that various offers were made by the counsel for the prosecution to prove the acts and declarations of various third persons, without in any manner connecting Mr. Callicot therewith. The Committee deemed it their duty, in the consideration of questions relating to the admissibility of testimony, to regard Mr. Callicot as on trial for the commission of a crime, and to be governed by the rules of evidence applicable to all judicial proceedings. They know of no other guide by which to receive or exclude evidence, and they believe they have decided the questions of evidence raised in accordance with well settled elementary principles of law. It must be evident to every one, that the declarations and acts of others should not be given in evidence against a person, unless he was present or in some way assented to them or authorized them, for were it otherwise there might be no end to the testimony, and the innocent might be quite as likely to be convicted as the guilty. It would be a hard rule, indeed, that would allow one person to perform acts and make declarations to be used in evidence against a defendant, who had no control over the person making the declarations or performing the acts, who had no knowledge of them, and who had in no manner authorized or assented to them.

It will be seen that no evidence was given, or offered to be given, showing that Mr. CALLICOT authorized, assented to, had any knowledge of, or was in any way or manner connected with, the acts or declarations of other parties ruled out by the Committee, and the Committee were unable to satisfy themselves that any reason existed in this case, for disregarding plain and well-settled rules of evidence.

The Committee have heard all proper evidence to show that Mr. CALLICOT has been guilty of corrupt or criminal conduct in his official character, as a member of this Legislature, or since his election, and have come to the conclusion that he is entirely innocent.

Respectfully submitted.

A Freshet on the Hudson.

ALBANY, Friday, April 17.

There is a freshet here. The water already covers the docks and piers, and is still slowly rising.

THE FIRE OF THE FLINT.

The Committee of Arrangements for the Loyal Union meeting called for Monday next, have announced that Lieut.-Gen. SCOTT would preside over the meeting from the balcony of the Fifth-avenue Hotel, opposite to the principal forum for orators.

The spirit of the old hero is shown in this assent to the wishes of the Committee.

When first applied to, he remarked that he had thought he should not again present himself before a popular audience, but in the present condition of public affairs he would consent cheerfully to "help the boys take one battery more."

The spirit shown by the General in uttering these words, should arouse the determination of every loyal man in the country to maintain the national honor at this crisis in public affairs. The announcement that Gen. SCOTT will preside at the meeting, is made public with his approval.

JAMES WADSWORTH, Chairman.

THE DISCOVERY OF THE PROPERTIES OF KELP OR SEAWEED.—It has been discovered by the chemists of France that Kelp or Seaweed has been found to contain the properties necessary to give tone to the stomach, and impart a vigorous and healthy digestion. By distillation and analysis it is found to contain Iodine, Hydro-Potassium, Iron, Lime, and the Hypophosphites, and other very important chemical agents, which act on the food in the stomach, similar to the gastric juice, causing it to dissolve, and a perfect digestion is the result. It is remarkable how it produces strength and vigor to the system, making the most slender fleshy and robust, with a hale and hearty constitution.

In Ireland, the Irish Moss has been used by physicians for many years, with marked success, and it contains many properties similar to Kelp, but in such feeble proportions that the Seaweed is destined to supersede it entirely.

Prof. FARADAY, of London, has discovered that the Kelp possesses also Anthilemintic, or worm-destroying property, in an eminent degree; and as it is perfectly safe under all circumstances, the day is rapidly approaching when the Seaweed will be the only remedy that will be used as a vermifuge for children and adults, for tape-worm, and all other kinds of worms that the human system is liable to.

Prof. FARADAY will prosecute his investigations still further on this interesting subject, and the public would do well to keep themselves posted as to the results of his labors.

WILLIAM WOOD, NO. 61 WALKER-ST, N. Y.

The extraordinary sale of this work, in these troublous times, is far beyond the most sanguine hopes of the publisher, having passed to a third edition in the brief period of thirteen months from the day of publication. The following extracts will indicate its enthusiastic reception by the Medical Press, both at home and abroad:

From the New-York American Medical Times.

No treatise on obstetrics has ever received such high and universal commendation by the Medical Press of this country and of Europe. In matter and arrangement, in philosophic views, in elegance as well as eloquence of expression, there is no work in the English language on the same subject which, in our judgment, can compare with it. Dr. Bedford's former work on the "Diseases of Women and Children," which received the high honor of a translation into the French and German languages, had already placed him among the most successful authors in this department.

From the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Dr. Bedford has explored the whole of his ground in a thorough luminous and systematic manner. It is a national work, and should, therefore, become the text-book in the medical colleges of the United States. It is, indeed, a book of unsurpassed ability. The friends of Dr. Bedford's volume are not only of his own household, but foreign nations have adopted the products of his mind. No one who reads this book can be surprised at the large praise extended to it by some of the very best foreign reviews and journals.

From the New-York American Medical Monthly.

We have read this book from the first page to the last; and, truly, it is an honor to our country. The work, the more we study it, leads us the more to appreciate the amount of research and labor expended upon its production. We may proudly compare it with any similar foreign publication. The greatest fault we can find with the volume is, not that any portion of it is bad, but that some parts are so superlatively excellent that even the brilliancy of others is obscured. Hereafter, whether as student or practitioner, the obstetrician will need no other book, as instructor, guide, or authority, than Bedford's "Principles and Practice."

From the Edinburgh Medical Journal.

The work is so good and so far excels the generality of text books on obstetrics, that we wish our readers to be impressed with a sense of its soundness, readableness and worth. We can, therefore, give Dr. Bedford's volume no higher praise than to say it is remarkable among its cotemporaries, for soundness in scientific views, readableness as a literary composition, and worth as a guide of practice.

From the London British and Foreign Medico-Chirurgical Review.

This book is a complete, systematic and practical treatise upon obstetrics, brought up to the existing state of science, and embracing the anatomy, physiology, and signs and diseases of pregnancy, parturition and childbed. All these subjects, with the physiological disquisitions arising out of some of them, are discussed. Assuredly, so comprehensive a course was never, perhaps, before given. The volume is evidently the result of great labor and research, and contains a vast deal of information, and that of a recent kind, upon all subjects connected directly or indirectly with obstetric medicine.

From the Glasgow Medical Journal.

It was with considerable interest that we opened the imposing volume, which Dr. Bedford has given to the world. It has caused its author many an hour of thought and toil, which would otherwise, perhaps, have constituted the leisure of a busy life. We have read the work with great pleasure, and, as a practical guide, it is unsurpassed.

From the British American Journal, Montreal.

We congratulate Dr. Bedford on the success he has achieved. It is more than a success—it is a triumph. His book comes seasonably in, and supplies a want, as regards minuteness of practical detail, in which other works on this subject were deficient, excelling possibly, but certainly rivaling the great Treatise of Ramsbotham.

From the Chicago Medical Journal.

The author deserves the thanks of the profession for having produced a national work of such unequivocal value. It is systematic without being cramped or rigid; it is comprehensive without being tedious; it is learned and exact without being pedantic and finical. We predict that the vast labor, extensive research, enthusiasm and ability, which Dr. Bedford has lavished on this book will give it the very first place in the estimation of the profession.

From the Cincinnati Lancet and Observer.

This treatise should be in the hands of every physician and student in the land. It has no superior, and few, if any equals, in any country. Progress is plainly written on every page. The author has presented us an originality, which is quite refreshing in these days of flunkeyism and imitation.

From the New-York North American Journal of Homeopathy.

This Book deals with accumulated facts, and profound generalizations, in which none but the clearest intellect and the most critical observer can be perfectly at home. In fullness of detail, lucidity of arrangement, and philosophical analysis, Dr. Bedford's volume will long stand as a model work, and will become the favorite text-book in the schools, as well as the most valued guide of the practitioner.

From the Cincinnati Medical and Surgical News.

Dr. Bedford's book has had an unparalleled success, which speaks volumes for the intelligence of the profession, as the author, we think, has given us a work of more intrinsic value than any other on the same subject now in existence. Any interruption while reading it is an annoyance, and we return to the mental feast as the hungry child to its interrupted meal. The physician who does not procure a copy of this admirable book, and read it, will not only be deprived of a treat, but should be considered behind the times.

From the Philadelphia North American Medico-Chirurgical Review.

The skillful obstetrician wields a ready pen on every page. The book is a complete treatise on the subject it discusses, and is very full in matters which are but lightly dwelt upon in works on obstetrics.

From the Buffalo Medical and Surgical Journal.

A book of unsurpassed excellence; we know of no treatise in which the vast subject of scientific and practical obstetrics has been so thoroughly discussed. It is the best work on obstetrics in the English language.

From the Berkshire Medical Journal.

This book comes from a high source. Dr. Bedford stands before the profession with authority in his department. His work displays, as would be expected from such a source, a thorough acquaintance with the literature of the subject, past and present, down to the very latest expedients, and the extensive practical knowledge of a popular obstetrician.

THE CAPTAIN OF THE VULTURE.
A Novel. By Miss M. E. BRADDON,
Author of "Lady Audley's Secret," "Aurora Floyd," "John Marchmont's Legacy," "The Lady Lisle," &c.
PAPER, FIFTY CENTS. CLOTH, ONE DOLLAR.

This is another novel by the author of "Lady Audley's Secret," who is now being read, talked about, and admired more than any writer of fiction of the day.

"Lady Audley's Secret" created even more excitement among the novel-reading public than "East Lynne," but the book before us surpasses either in point of plot and character. Whether or no, the plots, crimes and contrivances of Capt. Duke and his subordinates rivet the attention of the reader, and he cannot rest until the mystery has been solved. "Darrell Markham" will gratify every one who takes it up, and no one will lay it down until he arrives at the last page.

AND SPECIFIC REMEDY

FOR NON-RETENTION OR INCONTINENCE OF URINE, IRRITATION, INFLAMMATION OR ULCERATION OF THE BLADDER AND KIDNEYS, DISEASES OF THE PROSTATE GLAND, STONE IN THE BLADDER, CALCULUS GRAVEL OR BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS OR MILKY DISCHARGES, AND ALL DISEASES OR AFFECTIONS OF THE BLADDER AND KIDNEYS, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS EXISTING IN MEN, WOMEN OR CHILDREN.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretions or Abuse, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Wakefulness, Pain in the Back, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruptions on the Face, Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows Fatuity, Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases," INSANITY and CONSUMPTION. Many are aware of the causes of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums, and the Melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion. The Constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of medicine to Strengthen and invigorate the System, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does.

HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the blood, removing all diseases arising from excess and imprudencies in life, chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas and all scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Libson Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the Decoction, as it is usually made.

☞ THESE EXTRACTS HAVE BEEN ADMITTED TO USE IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY, and are also in very general use in all the STATE HOSPITALS and PUBLIC SANITARY INSTITUTIONS throughout the land, as well as in private practice, and are considered as invaluable remedies.
